Q#3 Pakistan Resolution of 1940 is termed as Magna Carta of Pakistan movement. Elucidate.

Answer:- The objective resolution was passed and it was called a great manifesto (Magna Carta), which paved the way for making constitution of Pakistan.

While holding the office of Prime Minister, Liaquat Ali Khan worked earnestly, thoughtfully and with understanding.

It proclaimed the following principles:-

→ Sovereignty belongs to Allah alone but he has delegated it to the state of Pakistan through its people for being exercised within the limits prescribed by him as a sacred trust.

→ Objective resolution of 1949 was presented to negate the national and international conspiracies upraised right after the formation of Pakistan to make the nation secular but unfortunately this resolution was not much discussed.

Q#5: - If we do not take charge of our population size, then the nature will do it for us. Explain this phenomenon in context of Pakistan. Also suggest measures to address it.

Answer: - The literal meaning of this statement is that the rapid growth of our population is making it very difficult for the world to address several serious environmental challenges. We can't go on increasing at the rate human beings are increasing forever, because earth is finite and you cannot put infinity into something that's finite.

Pakistan's population is projected to increase to over 227 million by 2025. The population will also comprise a much larger proportion of younger people (63% below the age of 30). The first implication of the high population is the downward pressure it puts on growth. A critical component of these investments in human development is catering to food and nutrition needs of the growing population.

→ It will also be a huge and urgent challenge to provide meaningful jobs for the growing number of individuals
