"Increasing Extremism and Religious intolerance" in Pakistan.

Pakistan is facing multiple challenges, such as socioeconomic, security challenges but another ^{serious} big issue and challenge which is worsening day by day is "extremism and religious intolerance". These challenges are impeding the country in other socio and religious matters and creating a dark image of country at national and international level as well. As there are the different sects in Islam and their followers are huge in number living together in Pakistan, these people have different faiths, ideologies and beliefs. But the main issue is "the intolerance" because they do not respect the religious faiths of others in some areas of Pakistan, where literacy level is low. Unfortunately Pakistan is one of the country in the world which is facing terrorism issue at very high level. So, extremism is the major tool of terrorist organization, they use this tool to ^{make} weak the community strength and unity and engage the security institutions in this matter and they do their own work behind this.

Extremists believe they are out of reach of law and state constitution, so they freely do such attempts, for example "recent years in Sialkot, Punjab, so extremist working in a factory killed a Sri Lankan citizen just on the basis of blame, even it was not proved and no evidence they were having. It was such a black incident which impacts on Pakistan's image globally that "how foreigners are treated in Pakistan. So these challenges can only be addressed through improving education, counselling and govt institutions should cracked down against such kind of organizations which are promoting extremism and religious intolerance in Pakistan, a great example ongoing "Operation Azm-e-Istehkam-e-Pakistan" which is purely against terrorism and extremism, ~~which~~ ~~with~~ ^{and} a strong action against to cope ~~with~~ ^{against} this dangerous dilemma!

Qn:9: Translation :- from where he came

Human came to the world without his wish and gone against his wish. In this period no one understand him and no one try to understand. He considered as Angel in childhood, evil in adulthood and foolish in oldage. If married his life would be like animals. If remains unmarried then says his character is not fine. If he is wealthy person then people consider him a dangerous personality. If opposite to this then say he is if poor then he is useless. If he do charity then says he his hunger of popularity. If does not then says he is not a human but animal. If interested in Religion then he is clever. If he avoids Religion then he do sin. Before his birth everybody love him but before his death everyone ^{want to} ready to hit him. If dies in adulthood then world says he was prosper. Title: "The value of Curiosity"

The world often dismisses curiosity as idle curiosity, although curious people are rarely idle. Parents usually try to suppress curiosity in their children because it leads to constant, challenging questions. However, children who remain curious are welcomed into universities where they can find out different answers. Scholars at university continue answering for the sake of knowledge. While their discoveries can have significant consequences, the primary motivation is the satisfaction of curiosity.
