Q2.

<sup>"Resilience Over Comfort: Dubai's Future"</sup>
Cyclic Nature of Social Development.

Sheikh Rasheed, the founder of Dubai expressed his views regarding social development. By comparing his grand father's efforts to his own struggles, he said that hard times in one's life make one strong and powerful. While, comfort makes man weaker and lazy. Difficult time invoke men to develop powerful abilities in themselves. However, on gaining everything, people become weaker and incapable of bearing life's problems. Hence, for continuous growth and development of Dubai, he suggested to create hardwork and consistency in youth through education. In his view, this proactive strategy will prevent nation from societal decline.

He advocates for raising "warriors"—resilient, resourceful, and responsible individuals—rather than "parasites" who depend on others.

~~Plse~~ If you have ever travelled internationally, and taken a transit flight from Dubai, Qatar, Kuwait etc. Then, you must know the peaceful environment there. There everyone looks same from personality, dress, behaviour, and from discipline and gate structure. If you ever passed from German gate, then same situation also observed there. Similarly, Malaysia, China, Spain, Australia, and New Zealand also have exact condition, as national uniformity have seen. While, when you reach the Pakistani gate, here instead of uniformity, diversity is seen. Mostly people are sad; children are crying,

There are newlywed brides with henna-decorated hands eagerly waiting to reunite with their husbands and elderly mothers-in-law suffering from joint pain walking slowly.

people have various forms of dresses, brides and old women are there on the roads. There are young men sitting in a corner, having candies for their children. Elsewhere, you see business-class passengers dressed in safari suits, who are bureaucrats bought from foreign and the bureaucrats.

In one corner, you might see young men who have come to work abroad, sitting hunched with a cloth on their shoulders and foreign candies in their hands for the children. Elsewhere, you see business-class passengers dressed in safari suits, who are bureaucrats
