

Date: _____

Day: _____

Mock Exam II

Question - 2:

Title: Human Values: The Asset of Nations

China build the Great wall of China with all its resources for its protection. However the attacks increased due to the poor character of guards. They let in the enemy by taking bribes. This demonstrates that character building is more important than building physical protection. The youth is in dire need of construction of character. An orientalist gives the ways that destroy a nation's civilization. The ways are to raise ambiguities and doubts in mind of young generation about family, teachers and ideals. These doubts compel them to not listen to them. Hence the values they teach also get lost. A valueless nation who respect entertainers more than educators has no chances of survival.

Date: _____

Day: _____

Question-4

ii- The movie was extremely interesting.

iv- She was cooking dinner while he was watching TV.

v- I had better call my parents to let them know I'm running late.

i- There are fewer apples in the basket.

vii- Many a traveler has gotten lost in this maze-like city.

Question-5

A. Punctuate the following passage

A fast train raced along the border of the biggest cattle ranch in Montana. A passenger gazed at the huge herds, and when the train ~~fit~~ finally passed the other boundary of the ranch, he turned to the man who was sitting beside him and said, "What a huge herd of cattle! I counted 13,750 head." The man was surprised. "That's amazing," he answered. "I own that ranch and you are exactly right - I have exactly 13,750 head of cattle. How were you able to count them

Date: _____

Day: _____

so fast? "It was easy. I just counted their legs and divided by four."

B.

iii- She did not qualify herself in English

iv- He prevented his younger brother from going to cinema.

viii- We will have to answer for our sins at the last day.

vi- You are not polite in your conduct with me.

i- He has great affection for his children.

Question-3

Q1. What factors determine the role of the courts in society?

Ans: The two factors determine the role of the courts in society. One factor is the view of judges about their function. And the second important factor is expectations of common man and also of the law makers and implements the law.
those who

Q2. How do changing conditions and conceptions influence the role of the courts?

Ans: The differences among the judges about their function. And also among the expectations of other stakeholders about the role of courts and judiciary. These are changing conditions and conceptions and they control judicial role. This makes the roles of courts dynamic instead of static.

Q3: What are some reasons the public might criticise the judiciary, according to the text?

Ans: The social institutes have also impact on judiciary. The reasons of public criticism on judiciary is in the text. Criticism often comes in controversial cases as public's emotions are attached to it. In these cases if judgement comes against their emotions they criticise the courts. Also if court's decision comes against the ideology or politics affiliation of certain segment of people, criticism might happen.

Q4: How do academic and professional critics typically describe the judiciary, and what titles have they sometimes bestowed upon judges?

Date: _____

Day: _____

Ans: The academic and profession critics of the courts do controlled criticism. They perceive judiciary as weak, stereotypical, passive and traditional in law-making. They do not try or experiments with new decisions. They get immune to criticism. The title they give the judges are first bestowed upon Viscount Simonds. The titles are "socially reactionary" or "the high priest of rigid stare decisis and the limited role for the judiciary."

Q5: What might certain judicial rulings become controversial? Give your opinion

Ans: The main reason of a judicial ruling becoming controversial is public attachment of emotions, feelings and sentiments to it. When these things are attached, the ruling become household word. If the decision comes against the public emotions they start criticizing judges. Moreover, the lack of judicial knowledge among the masses often lead them to criticize the verdict against their little knowledge.

Question-6:

A.

(viii) Elephant in the room: The devastating condition of Palestine has become the elephant in the room for the leaders of the Muslim world.

v) to drop in: My friends just drop in on weekends.

iv) to bring to book: Israel should be brought to book by International Courts for its genocide and war crimes.

i) A passing fancy: Elif Shafak's "Forty Rules of Love" was a passing fancy for me, but her book "10 minutes 38 seconds in this strange world" has become my favourite.

ii) on the anvil: The decision to arrest Israel's Prime Minister is on the anvil.

B.

Sarah greeted Mark, and asked about whether he knows about upcoming competitive exams. Mark respond positively but also expressed his dilemma about taking exam or not. He also acquire their importance. Sarah told him the role of competitive exams in shaping the future. Moreover, she said competitive exams test other abilities such as problem-solving skills, time management skills and ability to handle pressure other than testing knowledge. Mark expressed optimism but also show concern about stressfulness of exams and show worry to perform under stress. Sarah assured him that stress is a natural phenomena. They make you him work for excellence. Also motivated him that after achievement you will feel good. Mark agrees with her and added they help in demonstrating abilities and differentiate us from our peers. He thanked Sarah and assured her to work best.

Q7:

At the New York's Subway a violinist played a tune for 45 minutes. Handful of people stopped; a couple applauded and violinist collected

Date: _____

Day: _____

approximately 30 dollars. No-one knew the violinist was Joshua Bell, who was one of the best musicians of the world. In that subway, Joshua played one of the most complicated tunes ⁱⁿ of the world with 3.5 million ever written dollars worth violin. Joshua Bell performed in Boston and earned millions of dollars, two days before the event of Subway. This experiment proved that extraordinary things do not shine in simple environment and often it is ignored and given less importance. There are extra talented people in the world who are not getting the deserved recognition and reward. That's why where you are truly appreciated, go there.

