English Precise and Composition

Q#3

Q No# 1

The role of the courts in society is determined not only by the Judges' Perception of their function but also to great extent, by the expectations of the Public, the execution/executive and the legislature of the courts. Often there is a gap between the Judge's Perception and other's expectations.

Q#2

There is a division of opinion among the Judges on the concept of Judicial function and there are differences in other's expectations of the nature of the Judicial role. The Judicial self-prep^r perceptions of their role and other's expectations of the courts are suryed by changing conditions and conceptions.

Q# 3

Some of the public criticisms have been instigated by controversial cases in which the judgments of the courts and comments made by Judges were out of nature and out of tune with popular feelings or were intense insensitive to certain segments of the public. These cases are called emotional, ideological, social and political elements, which always transform a routine legal matter into a controversial case which lies in the eyes of a public storm and turns an ordinary case into a household.

Q#4

Usually the academic and Profession critics of the courts phrase their criticism in restrained terms. The Judiciary, they say, has been timid, unimaginative, not active, not creative, orthodox, conventional, or conservative in its law-making functions and that it has over-practiced judicial self-restraint. Some time they bestow upon the a Judge the title of "socially reactionary" or "the high priest of rigid state decisis and the limited code for the Judiciary" both titles conferred on viscount Simonds.

certain Judicial rulings might become controversial because sometimes we are a part of criminal case or our beloved is, we don't like the decision against our wishes so, the ruling is like a controversial issue. Some decisions are against our emotions and feelings and the criminal always considers the decision against him, so the judicial ruling becomes an issue.
