

English Precise and Composition (Mock paper)

Q no # 7 Translation

A violinist played for 45 minutes in New York's subway. Few people stayed, a couple praised the violinist, and the violinist saved thirty dollars approximately. Nobody knew that the violinist was one of the greatest violinist in the world, Joshua Bell. Joshua played one of his most difficult tune with his expensive, 3.5 million dollar violin, in the same subway. Two days before the subway's incident, he performed in Boston and earned millions of dollar from the successful show. It is a known fact that, in the ordinary environment, extraordinary people won't shine and often they're ignored. Efficient people are found everywhere but they don't get their due amount of respect and recognition. Therefore, where there is honour and regard, go there.

Q no # 6(A) Five sentences.

- (1) USA decided to bring Osama Bin Laden to books.
- (2) Sarah, killing the elephant in the room, started telling us about her activities at her friend's home.
- (3) After losing his wife, this old man now is just a puffed pipe.
- (4) Ahmer's bestfriend drops in whenever he is in the neighbourhood.
- (5) One can't rest on his laurels after excelling the exams.

(B)

Sarah asked Mark that, had he heard about the upcoming competitive exams. Mark ~~assured~~ <sup>replied</sup> her and said that he had been thinking about whether he should take them or not and are they really that much important. Sarah assured Mark and said that competitive exams play a crucial role in shaping everyone's future. They not only test knowledge but also critical and analytical skills of a person. Mark signed and said that he <sup>had</sup> never thought about it that way, and he had been worrying about how he would perform in this stressful exam under such pressure.

Sarah assured him that it was natural to feel stressed, and she suggested him to think of it as a challenge to overcome. Mark agreed with her and said these exams do provide a great opportunity to showcase my talent. He thanked Sarah for helping him understand the importance of competitive exams and he assured her that he will give his best shot.

Qno# 5 (A)

A fast train raced along the border of the biggest cattle ranch in Montana. A passenger gazed at the huge herds, and when the train finally passed the other boundary of the ranch, he turned to the man who was sitting beside him and said, "what a huge herd of cattle! I counted 13,750 head." The man was surprised, "That's amazing!", he answered "I own that ranch and you are exactly right. I have exactly 13,750 head of cattle. How were you able to count them so fast?" "It was easy, I just counted their legs and divided by four."

5 (B)

viii) We will have to answer for our sins at the last day.

iv) He prevented his younger brother from going to cinema.

iii) She did not qualify herself in English.

(i) He has great affection for his children.

vii) Your principal will preside on the annual function.

Q NO # 4

(ii) The movie was very interesting.

(iv) She was cooking dinner, while he was watching TV.

(v) I had better called my parents to let them know I was running late.

(i) There are less apple in the basket.

(vii) Many a traveller have gotten lost in this maze-like city.

Q # 3

Ans 1: Factors that determine the role of the courts in society are not just the judges's perception of their function but also people's expectation of justice, and the justified functioning of executive and legislature of the courts.

The role of the court in today's modern world is not static because society is constantly changing and dynamic and similarly the people's expectations of courts are solely based on justice. Hence, public opinion, executive and legislature bodies also determine the role of the courts.

Ans 2: As society is constantly in change, these dynamic conditions and conceptions influence the role of the courts. Because there is a division of opinion among the judges on a single matter, and people have different expectations and opinion on the role of a judiciary. Thus, these changing conditions and other political and social institutions influence the role of the courts.

Ans 3: Public will probably criticize the judiciary if the judges will make insensitive and insane judgement. They would be criticized for making controversial remarks and judgements that will go against the popular public opinion. These kind of cases are often charged with emotional, political, religious or social elements which transform a simple case into a controversial matter. Therefore, if the judiciary won't make sane judgements, they would be publically criticized.

Ans 4: Academic and professional critics typically describe judiciary as timid, conventional, unimaginative, not creative and conservative in its law making process. Although, these critics restrain themselves from using harsh words, but they do think that the laws the judiciary is making are outdated. They also bestow upon a judge the title of "socially reactionary". Moreover, they also compare a judge with a priest as the judges make outdated and conservative laws which aren't really applicable in this world. Therefore, these professional critics describe the judiciary as unconventional.

Ans 5: Certain rulings will become controversial if they lack public sentiment, and sane judgement, and the involvement of politics. For instance, Pakistan ex-Prime Minister Imran Khan's "Iddat case". This judicial ruling became the talk of the town because it lacked sane judgement and public expectations. That is how certain rulings have become controversial in today's world.

Rough Draft

- ① Chinese built the Great wall of China so that no one can invade China, but they were invaded 3 times. Invading army didn't attack on wall but on the characters of guards. Human character building is more important. New generation must have character.
- ② An orientalist said; if you want to destroy civilization of a nation, destroy family, education system, idols. Destroy all those people who will teach 'Human Values' to our young people.
- ③ A nation is doomed if its scientists, <sup>and</sup> teachers are not honoured.

Q#2 "Contribution of Education in Character Building"

Despite building the Great Wall of China, Chinese people were invaded three times. The invading army didn't climb the wall rather bribed the guards. This leads to the fact that building a strong character is more important and necessary. An orientalist, said, if one wants to destroy the civilization of a nation, one needs to degrade motherhood, destroy the reputation of teachers, and belittle the contributions of scholars and scientists, so that students won't listen to their teachings. Therefore, a nation is doomed if its scientists and teachers are not honoured.