

Part. II

Q. 2

Success Lies in High Morals

For a nation success lies in high morals rather than investing their time on building infrastructure. However, now a days societies are giving more values their dancers, entertainers, and singer over the intellectuals. As a result, the intellectuals that could be parents, teachers, and other role model are loosing the desired place in front of young generation. According to a wise man, to destroy a nation, one has to destroy its family structure, educational institutions and ^{erase} the role model. All these three things, would be enough to take down a nation on its knees.

Total words in Paragraph: 285

Total words in Precise: 103

Q. 3.

Ans

Q. 1. The factors which determine the role of courts in society are public opinion, the executives and the Legislators of the courts.

QNO2.

The decisions of judges and the expectations of the public change with the changing conditions. As a result, the courts are unable to issue their decisions on pure meritocracy. And the public and other political leadership always remain sceptical about ~~their decision~~ the decisions of judges. In brief, role of courts in society is not constant, it always depends upon the given condition.

QNO3.

In public's opinion, courts don't follow judicial lines. Most of the decisions issued by the courts are integrated with popular ideas. Similarly, their personal feelings, social, ideological and political associations are also involved in their decisions.

QNO4.

The Academics and the professional critics typically describe the court as controlled, less creative, inactive, aligned with old ideas and narrow minded ~~state~~ on their law making responsibilities. Similarly, they also related the judiciary system with viscounts Semons.

QNO5.

In my opinion, certain judicial rulings have been criticized because of the politicized historical role of the judiciary. At multiple occasions, judiciary one sided decision, which made the nation

Skeptical about them. Moreover, throughout the history judiciary tried to align itself with popular ideas which made it a politicized institute rather than the ~~just~~ institute of justice and equality. In brief, judiciary decisions must be unbiased and in the interest of public.

Q. NO 4.

ii. The movie was interesting.

vi. She speaks though ~~on the subject~~ as she has been expert on the subject.

viii. Many a travellers has gotten lost on the maze like city.

iv. He watched TV while she was cooking.

iii. The hard tests come at the end of the fall.

Q. NO 5.

Part - A

~~A fast~~

A fast train raced along the border of the biggest cattle ranch in Montana. A passenger gazed at the huge herds, and when the train finally passed the border of the ranch, he turned to the man who was sitting beside him. And, said, "what a huge herd of cattle, I counted 1,3750 head." The man was surprised, "that is amazing, he answered, "I own that ranch and you are exactly right, I have exactly 13,750 head of cattle. How were you able to count them so fast?" "It was easy, I just counted their legs and divided by 2."

Part - B

- i. He has great affection for his children.
- ii. Would you like to attend on this dispute for him?
- iv. He prevented his younger brother from going to cinema.
- vi. You are not polite in your conduct to me.
- vii. Your principal will preside over the annual function.

QNO6.

~~Part~~ Part - A

viii. Initially, she considered speaking english as putting elephant in the room.

vii. As he turned 80 years old, the people considered him as a puffed piped but he proved them wrong by winning the marathon.

iv. The teacher tried to correct his actions by bringing him to the book.

i. Today, the youth is blindly passing the fancy.

iii. His escape from the crime scene is the writing on the wall.

B.

When Sarah greeted Mark and questioned him about the upcoming exams, he replied that whether he should give the exams or not because he is skeptic about their importance. In reply, Sarah emphasized about the importance of exams and said to Mark that these exams would help him in his problem solving skills, time management and ~~hand~~ pressure handling problems. After taking a pause and realizing the importance of exams, Mark asked if the exams ~~are~~ were not stressful and he was worried about handling the pressure. On Mark's concerns, she replied that stress is natural and ~~so~~ he should focus to overcome the stress, and these exams would help him to overcome his stress. In the ~~next~~ end, ~~the~~ Mark realized the importance of exams as they provide a chance to show one's abilities and compete with fellows, and he ~~to~~ also showed his gratitude to Sarah for her suggestions.

① No. 7

In the subway of New York, a violinist played a tune for 45 minutes. A few people stood over there, ~~and~~ one couple showed their appreciation by clapping and that violinist earned about thirty dollars. Nobody had any about that ~~violinist~~ man. Actually, that man was Joshua Bell who was a famous composer and a violin player. In that subway, Joshua Bell played one of his most complex ~~tune~~ composition by his 3.5 million dollar expensive ~~violin~~ but nobody paid much attention to him. Few days prior, sk he presented the same composition in Boston and earned million of dollars. Hence, His experiment shows that the people born with special gift need a specific environment to shine. So, one should surround himself with that people who appreciate one's talent.