

Day: M T W T F S

Date: ___/___/___

①

Name: Urooba Shafique

Roll no: 32625

Batch: 59 (Online)

Subject: English Precie and Composition

Date: 4-06-2024

Mock Exam II

QUESTION 2

PRECIE

IMPORTANCE OF BUILDING HUMAN

CHARACTER AND VALUES

Chinese constructed the Great Wall of China believing its impressive height would deter foreign invasions. Surprisingly, China's defence was breached due to bribed gatekeepers who let invaders in. This demonstrates that building strong character and values is more important than building material assets. A quote states, to demolish a nation's civilization, its family institutions, education system and role models must be destroyed. When the services of mothers, educators and scientists are denied, youth remain at crushing loss of human values.

A nation that glorifies its celebrities but neglects its promoters of human values jeopardises its future.

Total Words = 288

Precise = 98 words

QUESTION 3

READING COMPREHENSION

Q1. What factors determine the role of courts in society?

There are certain factors ^{which} ~~that~~ determine the role of courts in society. First is the perception of judges regarding their roles and functions. Secondly, the expectations of the public, executive body and the legislative body demonstrate the role of courts up to a great extent. This difference in perception of judges and other people's expectations presents a sharp contrast about the role of courts in society. Thus, to conclude, different perceptions, ~~are~~ and expectations are some of the factors which determine the role of courts.

Q2. How do changing conditions and conceptions influence the role of the courts?

The role of the courts is being influenced by continuously changing conditions and conceptions. The thought processes of individuals keeps on changing according to different conditions. It is this constant shift of conditions and dynamic process which influence the role of the courts. Judiciary is not the only organ to influence the role of court, rather and determine its scope and boundaries. The changing expectations of political and social institutions also ~~prove~~ ^{serve} as contributing factor influencing court's role. Hence, it is correct to say that changing conditions and conceptions influence the role of the courts significantly.

Q3. What are some reasons the public might criticize the judiciary, according to the text?

According to the text, ^{due to} some reasons the public might criticize the judiciary. The judiciary face harsh public criticism when the judges pronounced ^{certain} judgements that are in sharp contrast to ~~pub~~ popular sentiments of certain segments of public. Certain sensitive cases holds popular sentiments for public and it expects the judges to pronounce the verdict in accordance with popular feelings. However, judiciary favours evidences over subjective ideological factors. Some cases involving emotional, ideological, social or political elements turn into controversial cases for the public who wants decision according to their expectations. Therefore, public might criticize judiciary for cases holding popular sentiments and ideological confrontations.

4. How do academic and professional critics typically describe the judiciary, and what titles have they sometimes bestowed upon judges?

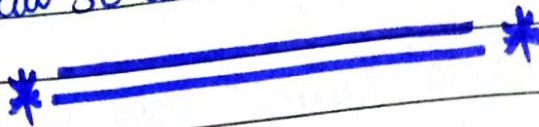

The academic and professional critics often describe the judiciary in a very derogatory manner attributing all negative attributes and vices to it. They use restrained terms to describe the judiciary as cowardly, harshly unimaginative, inactive, non-creative, conventional or very conservative in law making processes. The title they confer upon judges are "Social reactionary" and "the high priest of rigid state decision and the limited role of the judiciary". Thus, the above discussion Pinpoints critics' negative comments and derogatory titles upon judges showing their disapproval for their ineffective use of judicial power and mishandling of certain judicial rulings.

Q5. Why might certain judicial rulings become controversial? Give your opinion.

Certain judicial rulings have the tendency to become controversial. In my opinion, individuals and different branches of government hold different perceptions, thought processes, and expectations. As no two individuals can claim blindly that their opinions and ideological foundations are exact replica of each other. In the same manner, a state with million of population and various ~~work~~ acting bodies like executive, legislative, judiciary and local bodies differ in their ideologies, opinions, sentiments and perceptions. Sometimes ~~a~~ judiciary pronounces a judicial statement according to their own perceptions built by arguments and collective evidences. However, these cases often ~~is~~ hold different ideological perceptions for either public or executive. In such a case, they start criticizing and challenging judicial ~~and~~ decision as biased, orthodox or contrary to the rule of law.

To conclude, cases charged with social, political and ideological significance may potentially contribute to criticism of judiciary. The judiciary must be unbiased, just, professional and sincere in its pronouncements that must be prioritizing the rule of law so as to avoid criticism.

QUESTION

CORRECTION OF SENTENCES

4.

1. There are less apples in the basket.
There are few apples in the basket.
2. She was cooking dinner while he watches TV.
She was cooking dinner while he watched TV.
3. The movie was too interesting.
The movie was extremely interesting or
The movie was very interesting.
4. I had better called my parents to let them know I'm running late.
I should call my parents and let them know I'm running late.

Day: M T W T F S

Date: ___/___/___

8

3. You are not polite in your conduct towards me.
4. Your Principal will preside over the annual function.
5. We will have to answer for our sins at the last day.

QUESTION 6 Part A Word Sentences

1. A passing fancy
Becoming stable under the age of 25
seems a passing fancy in the present circumstances.
2. To drop in
The stock price dropped in yesterday OR
I will drop in at my friend's house tomorrow.
3. Elephant in the room
The present generation's loss of moral and religious values is the elephant in the room that no one one wants to talk about

4. To rest on one's laurels

After getting her desired job, she started to rest on her laurels and stopped further struggle for a better job.

5. To bring to book

The new Assistant Commissioner vowed to eradicate all gang mafias from his district and bring them to book for their wrongdoings.

Part B) Rewrite direct speech in a paragraph form.

Sarah asked Mark whether he has heard about the upcoming competitive exams. Mark affirmed in positive to know about the exams and also he expressed his intention to take the exam. ^{or not} He inquired from Sarah regarding the importance of the exams. Sarah acknowledged the role of competitive exams in shaping future. According to her viewpoint, they not test ~~the~~ ^{candidates'} knowledge but also demands problem-solving skills, time management and pressure handling. Mark opined that he had not thought in this way. ~~But~~ and expressed his worry about how he would perform under such pressure.

3 Sarah expressed her thought that feeling stressed was natural but it should be taken as a challenge to overcome. She also expressed that the sense of achievement he would feel after clearing them would be unmatched. Mark regarded her arguments as valid and thanked her for helping him understand the importance of competitive exams. He exclaimed with confidence and ex~~o~~ that he would give it his best shot.

QUESTION 7:

TRANSLATION

In a subway of New York, a violin player played on his tune for 45 minutes. A handful of people stopped, one of the couples clapped and the violin player collected $30. Nobody knew that the violin player was Joshua Bell, who was among the best singers of the world. In that subway, he played on one of the most complicated tunes on his violin worth $3.5 million. ^{Two} days before the Subway incident, Joshua exhibited performance in Boston and earned million of dollars. The experience proved that extraordinary things do not get spotlight in ordinary environment and it is often neglected and undermined. Everywhere around, capable and exceptionally talented people are found, who are not given their due recognition and rewards. Therefore, visit a place where your presence is truly appreciated and valued.

