

Part II

Q# 2

Title: Building Character Saves Nation

The Great Wall of China was built to prevent the foreign invasions. But the attacks were increased as <sup>at</sup> the corrupt guards opened the doors for the invaders. The Chinese had prioritized the wall building over the character building. For a nation, the later is more important than anything else.

Undermining a nation's institutions — family, education, and role models — leads to its destruction.

Degrading <sup>Damaging</sup> motherhood and <sup>damaging</sup> reputation of teachers, scholars, and scientists leave these institutions worthless. The author enquires that who will impart human values in youth in such situation.

A nation is futureless which prioritizes entertainment over education.
