A ~~violinist~~ violinist played tunes for 45 minutes in New York's subway. Only a handful of people stopped, a couple clapped for him and he was able to collect 30 dollars. No one knew that this violinist was Joshua Bell, who was one of the best musicians in the world. In this subway, Joshua played one of the most intricate tunes written with a violin worth $3.5 million. Two days earlier from this subway incident, Joshua had performed in Boston and earned millions of dollars. This tells that extraordinary things are often ignored/overlooked in ordinary circumstances and are given little to no importance. Everywhere there are brilliant individuals who are <sup>Good</sup> not given <sup>their</sup> deserved recognition and reward. This is why it is Therefore, go where you are appreciated and valued.

A fast train raced along the border of the biggest cattle ranch in Montana. A passenger gazed at the huge herds, and when the train finally passed the other boundary of the ranch, he turned to the man, who was sitting beside him and said, "What a huge herd of cattle! I counted 13,750 head."

The man was surprised, "that's amazing!"; he answered, "I own that ranch and you are exactly right. I have exactly 13,750 head of cattle. How were you able to count them so fast? It was easy. I just counted their legs and divided by four."
