

Mock ExamQuestion No 1:

Make a precis of the following passage and suggest a Title.

Answer:Ephialets not a Traitor

The author argues that Ephialets from action film 300 was not a traitor. His actions are transparent. Spartan men are soldier by birth but any child with not a perfect body was ditched. Ephialet was such kind of baby. But his father instead of ditching him, secretly trained him as a soldier. Upon getting a lucky chance he beg Leonidas to allow him to fight the ~~war~~ of 300. In spite of having good spear, Leonidas defeats him. Then Broken down Ephialets joins Persian group and accepts all the wealth they offered to him only to get a uniform not in any greed or betrayal.

Question No 2:

Read the passage carefully and answers the questions.

1. why was Patton considered a controversial military figure?

General George S. Patton was considered a controversial military figure because of his aggressive tactics and outspoken views. The most famous controversial was his belief that the United States had defeated the wrong enemy in World War II and that they should have pushed straight to Moscow instead.

(2) Was the perspective of Patton according to Alan Axelrod justified?

Alan Axelrod justified the Patton's perspective that Soviet Union posed a greater threat to American interests than Nazi Germany. So that United States should have focused its efforts on defeating the Soviets rather than Nazis. Alan Axelrod justified the Patton's perspective that Soviet Union was a more dangerous <sup>and</sup> long-term threat to American freedom and democracy.

(3) What ~~sh~~<sup>w</sup>ould have happened if Patton had captured Moscow?

According to author Michael Peck, if Patton had pushed all the way to Moscow, such move rather difficult and risky, it could have significantly altered the outcome of the World War II and potentially prevented the cold war from ever happening.

(4) Describe the contrasting and complimentary sentiments mentioned in the Text.

General Patton's belief that the United States defeated the wrong enemy and should have pushed straight to Moscow is a controversial belief while some authors compliment his belief by arguing that his willingness to think outside the box and challenge conventional wisdom is a valuable lesson for leaders in any field.

(5) Is there any valuable lesson the leaders may infer from such views of Patton?

His willingness to think outside the box and challenge conventional 'wisdom' is a valuable lesson for leaders in any field.

Question No 4:

Correct the Sentences.

(iii) My Uncle arrived to Islamabad yesterday. He will stay here for a week.

(ii) Next Saturday my nephew is doing a party.

(iv) It has been three weeks that I don't see him.

(v) My grandfather grows tomato.

(vi) If Naseem would win the lottery, he travelled a lot.

Question No 5:

A- Punctuation.

Bob excitedly burst into the living room, holding a gadget. Honey, look what I bought! a robot vacuum cleaner. He exclaimed his wife. Lisa eyed it skeptically. You spent our savings on that. But it will save us time, Bob argued. As the robot whirred to life chaos ensued it zoomed around bumping into walls and furniture sending objects flying. Lisa sighed this is not helping. Bob sheepishly admitted maybe I got carried away. They erupted into laughter realizing some messes are best. Cleaned up the old-fashioned way - with teamwork and a trusty dustpan.

(B) Rewrite the following sentences:

- i) She died of corona.
- ii) He jumped over the gate.
- iii) He is fond of reading books.
- iv) Translate the following text from English to Urdu.
- vii) He is reluctant to perform his duty.

Question No 7:

Translation:

The millionaire, John Jacob Astor was the fourth passenger when Titanic sank. The money present in his bank account was enough to make thirty Titanics. However, facing the life-threatening situation, he did what he considered morally correct and vacated his seat in the lifeboat to save the life of two frightened children. The owner of America's biggest departmental stores' chain Astor Straus, May's, who was also in Titanic said, "I will never board lifeboat before other men." His wife also ~~denied~~ refused to board lifeboat and gave her seat to her maid Elen Bard. She decided to spend the last moments of her life with her husband. These rich people instead of compromising their moral values, preferred to die even over their wealth. In the sense

Date _____

• of moral values their choice accentuates human culture and human nature.

---