

QUESTION-3

COMPREHENSION

(1)

Patton was considered a controversial military figure because of his aggressive tactics and outspoken views. Due to his outspoken perspectives, some historians criticized him while others appreciated him for being visionary. His famous statement about Moscow was also a reason of why he was considered a controversial military figure.

(2)

Yes, the perspective of Patton according to Alan Axelrod was justified. As Soviet Union posed a greater threat to American interests and it had the potential to wage war against America by posing threat to American freedom and democracy. The fear of multipolarity^{was} also existed. These points justified the perspective of Patton according to Alan Axelrod.

(3)

If Patton had captured Moscow it might resulted in prevention of Cold War from ever happening. America will be the sole authority and a long-term concept of uni-polarity might existed. And lastly, Nazi Germany made it sure that no zionist had been left and also Nazis caused a lot more destruction. This would have happened if Patton had captured Moscow.

(A) PUNCTUATE

Bob excitedly burst into the living room holding a peculiar gadget. "Honey look! what I bought a robot vacuum cleaner," he exclaimed. His wife Lisa eyed it skeptically, "You spent our savings on that?" "But it will save us time," Bob argued, "as the robot whirred to life chaos, ensued it zoomed around bumping into walls, and furniture sending objects flying." Lisa sighed, "this isn't helping."

Bob sheepishly admitted, "maybe I got carried away." They erupted into laughter, realizing some messes are best cleaned up the old-fashioned way - with teamwork and a trusty dustpan.

QUESTION-2

Ephialtes: A Controversial Personality

In the writer's opinion, Ephialtes from the film "300" was wrongly pursued as evil. As in the first scene of film, it becomes clear that physically abelled men of Sparta were born to be soldiers and those disabled like Ephialtes are set on other paths. His loving parents decided to flee and live secretly so that they can train him to be a good soldier and may be accepted by Sparta. Finally, he begs in front of Leonidas, the king, to allow him to join the suicide mission of 300. But Leonidas rejected him inspite of his spear skills. If Leonidas allowed him to charge the army, he will fight to death. After being rejected twice, he went to Xerxes, where he was offered all the wealth and most desired thing

- a uniform. Ephialtes was neither greedy or deceiver nor he was accepted by his own People.
