Your rough work should be at the back. Your presentation needs to be formal. This compromises that. It is the planning process not the final draft. It is for your understanding. Doing this in front where it is visible to examiner can be highly detrimental to your essay.

The Essay

Title: "Tolerance is the only way to a peaceful society"

Introduction: No heading in the essay

According to the Realist theory of International relations, humans by nature are ~~at~~ selfish and hence their actions are driven by self-interest. Self-interest can be individual, state or community level. For a stable state, a satisfied and cohesive (community) communities are essential, since states are at times made up of diverse communi-ties. For their satisfaction and cohesion, it is necessary that prosperity reaches permeates each and every community so their rational self-interests are satisfied and they live peacefully under one flag. Tolerance without addressal of root causes of schism is similar

No direct relation to the topic. You hook and background information should directly be in context of essay topic.

Informal expression

~~For a peaceful and stable society tolerance is needed but it is not the only way alone to achieve the desired outcome. Addressal of other basic human needs such as property, security of life and property, right of freedom of religion and justice. Socio-economic prosperity are also key players in the establishment of a peaceful society.~~

This is not mentioned in the outline. Your introduction should discuss only what you've mentioned in the outline

No structure. No thesis statement no Gist of outline

~~Proponents of tolerance as the only way to achieve a peaceful society argue that Islam is a religion of peace because tolerance and forgiveness are the main teachings of our beloved Prophet (S.A.W). Another argument is the basis of Pakistani ideology which is Islam and its guiding principles. Since Islam lays down the foundation of tolerance and forgiveness, it undoubtedly can form the basis~~

So? How does that work as a universal argument. Buddhism also promotes tolerance so does that mean it's true for everyone.

Write in 3rd person

No logic, no argument. What here proves that tolerance is the only way to peaceful society. Why is it the only way. Your paragraph does not discuss that.

of a peaceful society.

Secondly, countries with diverse ethnic groups emanate tolerance which forms the basis of their cohesion and peaceful society.

~~Instances of honour killings, sectarian strife and bloodshed are as rare~~

~~as once in the blue moon. USA and Canada are the prime examples of this impeccable tolerance. With extreme diversity, they continue to demonstrate tolerance and towards their differences.~~

What does that prove?
What's the point. It lacks reasoning, argumentation, validation and structure.

the Arabian society we underwent a major ethical shift. The diverse tribes, each with its own chieftain, learned these principles and the once blood-thirsty Arabian society became a rational and just society. One beautiful example of this is the elimination of the once-never ending enmity between the Aus and Khizraj tribe of Madinah.

How does that prove that tolerance is the only way?

How was the animosity eliminated? What role did tolerance play?

Concluding sentence?

The discussion is neither about the positive outcomes of tolerance nor about tolerance as a pre-requisite to peaceful society. The argument is that tolerance is THE ONLY way to a peaceful society. The discussion should emphasise the only aspect

Last but not the least, the positive outcomes of tolerance are another evidence of its importance as a pre-requisite for a peaceful society.

The conquest of Makkah sets a beautiful example of tolerance.

That's forgiveness not tolerance

The general pardon granted by the Prophet (S.A.W) to the once hostile Quraish led to the mass conversion of non-Muslims. The strength of Islam increased without any disruption of peace and any bloodshed. Another example is the consolidation of as the first Islamic state. The Prophet (S.A.W), instead of expelling the non-Muslims out of Madinah or formulating harsh policies for them, signed a charter with them. By setting this example of tolerance, the state became safe from internal strife and threat.

Again that's not tolerance

Secondly, Nationalism instead of tolerance is the dominant factor in fostering a culture of unity and peace ultimately peace in the American Society. The constitution of America's opening statement says, "we the people of America" which ~~was~~ instills the fervour of nationalism in Americans and ~~it~~ forms a cohesive and peaceful society. Canada, recently, has experienced an uptick in the cases of killings driven by religious intolerance and racism underscoring that tolerance alone is not sufficient to guarantee peace. Other factors contribute to this process of peace as well.

Irrelevant and incoherent. how nationalism leads to peaceful society?

example is contraictory

Why repeat the same examples, you should counter your argument not refute the case study mentioned. the study is based on facts not opinion.

~~The Arabian Society was civilised not only through inculcation of feelings of tolerance, but by other reforms too. Firstly, the ruler of Madinah was the Prophet (S.A.W) himself who was just and received unanimous consensus on his becoming the Head of the State by Aus and Khizraj. This underscores the significance of true democracy and a just ruler for establishing a cohesive peaceful society. The Charter with the Jews and other non-Muslims in Madinah assured freedom of religion and financial autonomy which saliated their self-interest as per the Realist theory. This contributed to a peaceful society with no grievances.~~

So what's the argument? to conquer quarreling nations?

Irrelevant and incoherent no clear argument in the paragraph

From the above mentioned arguments, it is clear that there are other key factors which play a significant role in attaining a society. We will now look at how tolerance alone cannot achieve a peaceful society. and underscore the significance of other factors as important contributors to achieve the desired society.

~~Firstly, the schism in the society and ethnic groups is exploited by various external factions which hampers the attainment of a peaceful society. Proxy wars under the guise of Sunni-Shia or sectarian conflicts add fuel to the already escalating misunderstandings making negotiations and tolerance impossible. Combatting such factions and raising public awareness about the intention and mode of working~~ is crucial to end the distances between communities.

Secondly, constitutional amendments, acts and legislations which guarantee human rights, protection of minorities and ensure high treason for those who violate them ^{are} ~~are~~ another crucial step that should be taken to bridge the gap between diverse factions. Laws prohibiting honour killings, domestic violence and other ^{implacable} ~~infectable~~ crimes should be legislated. Severe punishments should be legislated ~~and~~ for such crimes. Judicial reforms for speedy justice and, corruption free judiciary and timely enforcement for laws are the need of the hour.

Apart from that, addressing historical grievances by equitable distribution of resources and equitable share in developmental projects such as CRFC are also crucial.

This would not only reduce the feelings of separatism but will also foster feelings of unity which would result in reduced terrorist attacks. ~~The~~ With this done, security situation would improve, steering the society towards stability and ultimately peace.

Lastly, religious tolerance forms the basis of all other forms of tolerance. A person who has the element of religious tolerance is tolerant to women, non-Muslims, animals, children etc. et cetera. To achieve this reforms at Madrasa and school level are important.

~~The~~ ex Madrasahs are a source of extremism whereas our poor

Irrelevant? The topic is argumentative there is no premise for recommendations education system has failed to teach the true essence of Islam to our students. Reforms such as change in curriculum of Madrasah and school students, training of teachers in Islamic education are needed to purge the society of the imminent threat of terrorism.

Way Forward

What were the previous paragraphs then?!

A peaceful society is formed from individuals with healthy minds ^{and} body, socio-economic prosperity and general feelings of happiness. To achieve the desired outcome of a peaceful society, the pre-requisites of tolerance must be fulfilled which are life security of life and property, socio-economic prosperity, human rights, inequality and freedom of speech and religion. A Democratic, just and corruption free society can successfully climb the ladder of becoming a peaceful society.
