

General Instructions

1. Give numbering to headings

2. Do not write lengthy paragraphs. Write medium sized paragraphs with headings.

3. Do not use table for comparison and contrast questions.

4. Draw figures/diagram/flowchart where needed.

5. Start new question from fresh page.

6. Give around 15 headings for 20 marks question.

7. Every question should have introduction and conclusion paragraphs.

8. Add Quran/Hadees references wherever possible.

9. Narrate incidents from the life of Holy Prophet (SAWW) and Khulafa-e-Rashideen.

10. Add one quotation of famous religious scholar in each question.

11. Change colour scheme for references to give them more visibility.

12. Manage time

13. Wide page borders are discouraged. Should be reasonable.

14. Avoid writing wrong references.

15. Give more weightage to expressly asked part/s of the question.

16. Avoid writing wrong Quran/Hadith references. It puts extremely negative impression.

Name: Nimra Malik

Date: 10/11/2023

Islamic Studies

Answer Question

Q.1 (15)

In Islam women are considered equal to men in terms of their dignity and worth. They are given equal rights as human beings, such as the right to education, work, own property, and make decisions. Islam emphasizes the importance of respecting and honoring women.

Equality and Respect:

Islam teaches that men and women are equal in their human and spiritual worth. Both genders are considered equal in the sight of God and both deserve respect and dignity.

Rights and Responsibilities:

Islam acknowledges that men

Name: Nimra Malik
Batch no. 59
Islamic Studies

Answer Question
~~Part~~ (5)

In Islam women are considered equal to men in terms of their dignity and worth. They are given rights as human beings, such as the right to education, work, own property, and make decisions. Islam emphasizes the importance of respecting and honoring women.

1. Equality and Respect:

Islam teaches that men and women are equal in their human and spiritual worth. Both genders are considered equal in the sight of God, and both are deserving of respect and dignity.

2. Rights and Responsibilities:

Islam acknowledges that men

humankind and spiritual worth.
Both genders are considered equal in the sight of God, and both are deserving of respect and dignity.

Avoid cutting.

have different roles and responsibilities based on their natural differences. However, these differences do not diminish the value or worth of either gender. Islam emphasizes that both men and women have rights and responsibilities that complement each other.

3. Education and knowledge:

Islam places a strong emphasis on seeking knowledge, and this includes education for both men and women. Islamic history is filled with examples of women who were scholars, teachers, and leaders. Women are encouraged to seek education and knowledge in various fields.

A. Economic Rights:

Islam grants women the right to own, inherit, and manage their own property. They have the freedom to engage in business and financial transactions, and their financial rights are protected.

S. Marriage and Family:

Islam emphasizes the importance of mutual respect, love, and cooperation between spouses. Both partners have rights and responsibilities within the marriage, and decisions should be made through consultation and mutual agreement.

B. Modesty and Protection:

Islam promotes modesty and encourages both men and women to dress modestly and behave with decency. This is seen as a means of protection and safeguarding the dignity of individuals.

7. Political Participation:

Islam encourages women's involvement in the political sphere, allowing them to voice their opinions and hold positions of leadership.

9. Spiritual Equality:

Quranic/Hadith references missing

Islam recognizes the spiritual equality of men and women, allowing both genders to engage in acts of worship and seek closeness to God.

10. Role Models:

Islam celebrates the contributions of female role models throughout history, showcasing their achievements as scholars, leaders, and activists.

Conclusion missing.

Question (8)

Ijma (Consensus) in Islam refers to the agreement and consensus of scholars on a particular issue. It is considered an important source of Islamic law. Qiyas (Analogy) is the process of deriving legal rulings for new situations. Both Ijma and Qiyas help in interpreting and applying Islamic law in situations where there is no direct guidance from the Quran or Hadith.

The responsibilities of civil servants in Islam are similar to the general principles of honesty, justice, and accountability. They are expected to serve the public with integrity, fairness, and efficiency. They should prioritize the welfare of the people and work towards the betterment of society.

Civil servants should also adhere to Islamic values and principles in carrying out their duties and avoid any form of corruption or misuse of power.

~~The~~

Question no. 4

The doctrine of Tawheed, also known as Tawheed, is the central concept in Islam that emphasizes the belief in the oneness of God. It is the foundation of Islamic faith and holds great importance in lives of Muslims.

Tawheed teaches that there is only one God, who is unique, eternal, and has no partners or associates. Muslims believe that God is the creator of the universe and everything with in it. This belief helps individuals to develop a strong connection with their Creator and recognize His supreme authority.

The importance of Tauheed in human life is profound. It provides a sense of purpose, guidance, and direction. Believing in the oneness of God.