

Title??

Outlines

1. Introduction

• Hook

• General Statement

• Thesis Statement

• ~~Main Body~~

You do not write the heading of main body in the outline

• ~~Definitions~~

Number both main and sub headings

Make a proper topic specific heading for Overview or Crunch Paragraph. Also crunch paragraph is not a body paragraph. It does not fall under the category of Main body

• ~~Benefits of Higher Education~~

The topic is not about benefits of skill acquisition and higher education. Topic is about comparing the two to see which one is better in terms of personal and professional development

• ~~Benefits of Skill Acquisition~~

You have only pointed out the main heads of your essay. Outline should also list the arguments discussed throughout the essay.

• Comparing Both

Main headings should be related to topic. They should use words given in the topic

2. Conclusion

The Essay

No headings in an essay =

① Introduction

Quotation is irrelevant to the topic.

Attention grabber should directly relate to the con

"Education is the movement from darkness to Light." - Allan Bloom. Education is not just gaining knowledge but it is evolution from idiocy to wisdom.

This is not what the topic is about. Topic is about comparing two.

This is an argumentative essay you have to take a stance on which is better

Expression is Informal

Skill and Higher Education both complement each other, as education contribute to gain knowledge and understanding, while skills are the practical implementation of the knowledge. But having a concept of acquiring skills only is totally wrong concept because the skill that need to be applicable comes from the knowledge that we get from higher education.

Write in 3rd person

Introduction lacks structure. No gist of outline and no thesis statement

② Main Body

The purpose of main heads in the outline is to distinguish between different dimensions of the the topic. They do not translate into actual paragraphs in the essay

"Higher Education" leads towards the last phase of the educational learning process. It is university level, Whereas "Skill acquisition" refers to improving hard or soft skills by practicing. Both of them complement each other as both of them have their own importance according to their needs. Let's know the benefits of bothe so that we can conclude which is more important.

When

Write a proper paragraph on what each entails. When you write definitions you need to write proper academic definitions with proper reference.

2.1) Pros of Higher Education

No headings in an essay

2.1.1: Social Development:

Individuals getting higher education get social skills by the institution and the environment they get there. From fellows & friends

Social development and social skill are two separate things

This is not an argument. You are simply stating an opinion
The paragraph of an essay needs to be academic in structure.
It has proper argumentation, structure and research based evidence to prove your point. This does not fulfill any of the criteria they learn to engage, behave and communicate with others It includes verbal and non-verbal communication like talking, facial expression, body language etc - these are communication skills not social development

2.1.2: Creative Ideas

This is a single sentence not even a paragraph.
Creativity is more of a skill acquisition thing not Higher education. Higher Education is more about critical thinking and discipline

Higher Education help learners to bring out their creative ideas into reality through different projects, from where they learn to take risks and also to accept failure, also creating and inventing such things that can be proud of.

If you want to go with this idea you need to give proper argument, analysis and evidence in its favour

2.1.3: Personal Development:

For the personal development it is important for us to acquire higher education because personal development improves the identity and awareness also build up potential & take out the inner talents, it takes time and include factors that influence and teachers, classmates are part of them.

Again no structure no proper argumentation
No critical analysis and no evidence

2.1.4: Communication:

Higher education help in improving communication skills as students learn to be better at critical thinking and then bringing out ideas and thoughts through communication, it involves group discussion and class debates. Also learn to listen other's point of view and convey own point of view in a decent manner.

Critical thinking is not a communication skill, You can only discuss one argument per paragraph

sentence structure

Discussion should be on how Higer education helps in personal and professional development by mean of teaching communication skills.

awareness of right and wrong, others' right, law obligation etc, in addition it provides degree so that every citizen can earn with respect without exploiting others right.

2.1.9. Sense of achievement

So does skill acquisition. Vocational schools and apprenticeship programmes also offer these things.

sense of achievement through different aspects. Higher education gives a student get position, scholarship, internship then all these achievements helps student realizing that he/she can do much more and his efforts are being recognized.

So does skill acquisition.

2.1.10. Job

Higher education is creating a bridge to achieve goals and get a dream job. A person becomes able to apply on his dream job because of having a degree.

2.1.11. Financial Stability

Directly address the argument in the topic sentence.

Financial Stability is the need of every person as it becomes the reason of satisfaction and fulfillment of basic necessities of life. Higher Education helps to become financially stable by getting degree and pursuing a career. Also financial aids are given to students who study in higher education institute for their encouragement.

Point is correct but lacks analysis and validation

sentence structure

Paragraph has no structure

3.1 Skill Acquisition - Pros

3.1.1 Personal Growth

Acquiring skills expands the knowledge and broadens the way of think which helps in personal development.

Not a paragraph:
Also so does higher education.

3.1.2 Creativity. Everyone has some kind of creativity inside him but learning the skills helps in creating ideas into reality through various aspects of work and life -

This was also discussed in higher education. You are to highlight their differences not similarities

3.1.3 Chain of learning

When some skill has been acquired then a person can share these skills with other people and these will teach next so that it becomes the chain. This also helps to uplift each other.

You are only considering informal aspect of skill acquisition

3.1.4 Jobs

Already discussed in Higher education

Skillful person can easily get job through online websites or physically. As a favourite skill and getting a dreamy job then enjoying by doing it, is such a great thing.

3.1.5 Communication Skills

Having great

Communication Skills ~~Improves~~ relation with others. It is most critical ~~aspect~~ in career. With this skill we can achieve possibly anything we want.

Discussed in Higher education as well

3.1.6 Online Learning

~~We~~ can earn by sitting ~~at~~ home and can earn more than a person earns at physical job - For this E-Learning is very important, one must learn any skill which can be sell online.

That can help in learning skill but not a benefit of skill education

3.1.7 Crime reduction

People are getting jobless day by day, in that circumstances skill acquiring is must so that one can earn online, while sitting at home also doesn't have restriction. It will help in reducing crime rates, when people will get opportunities to earn.

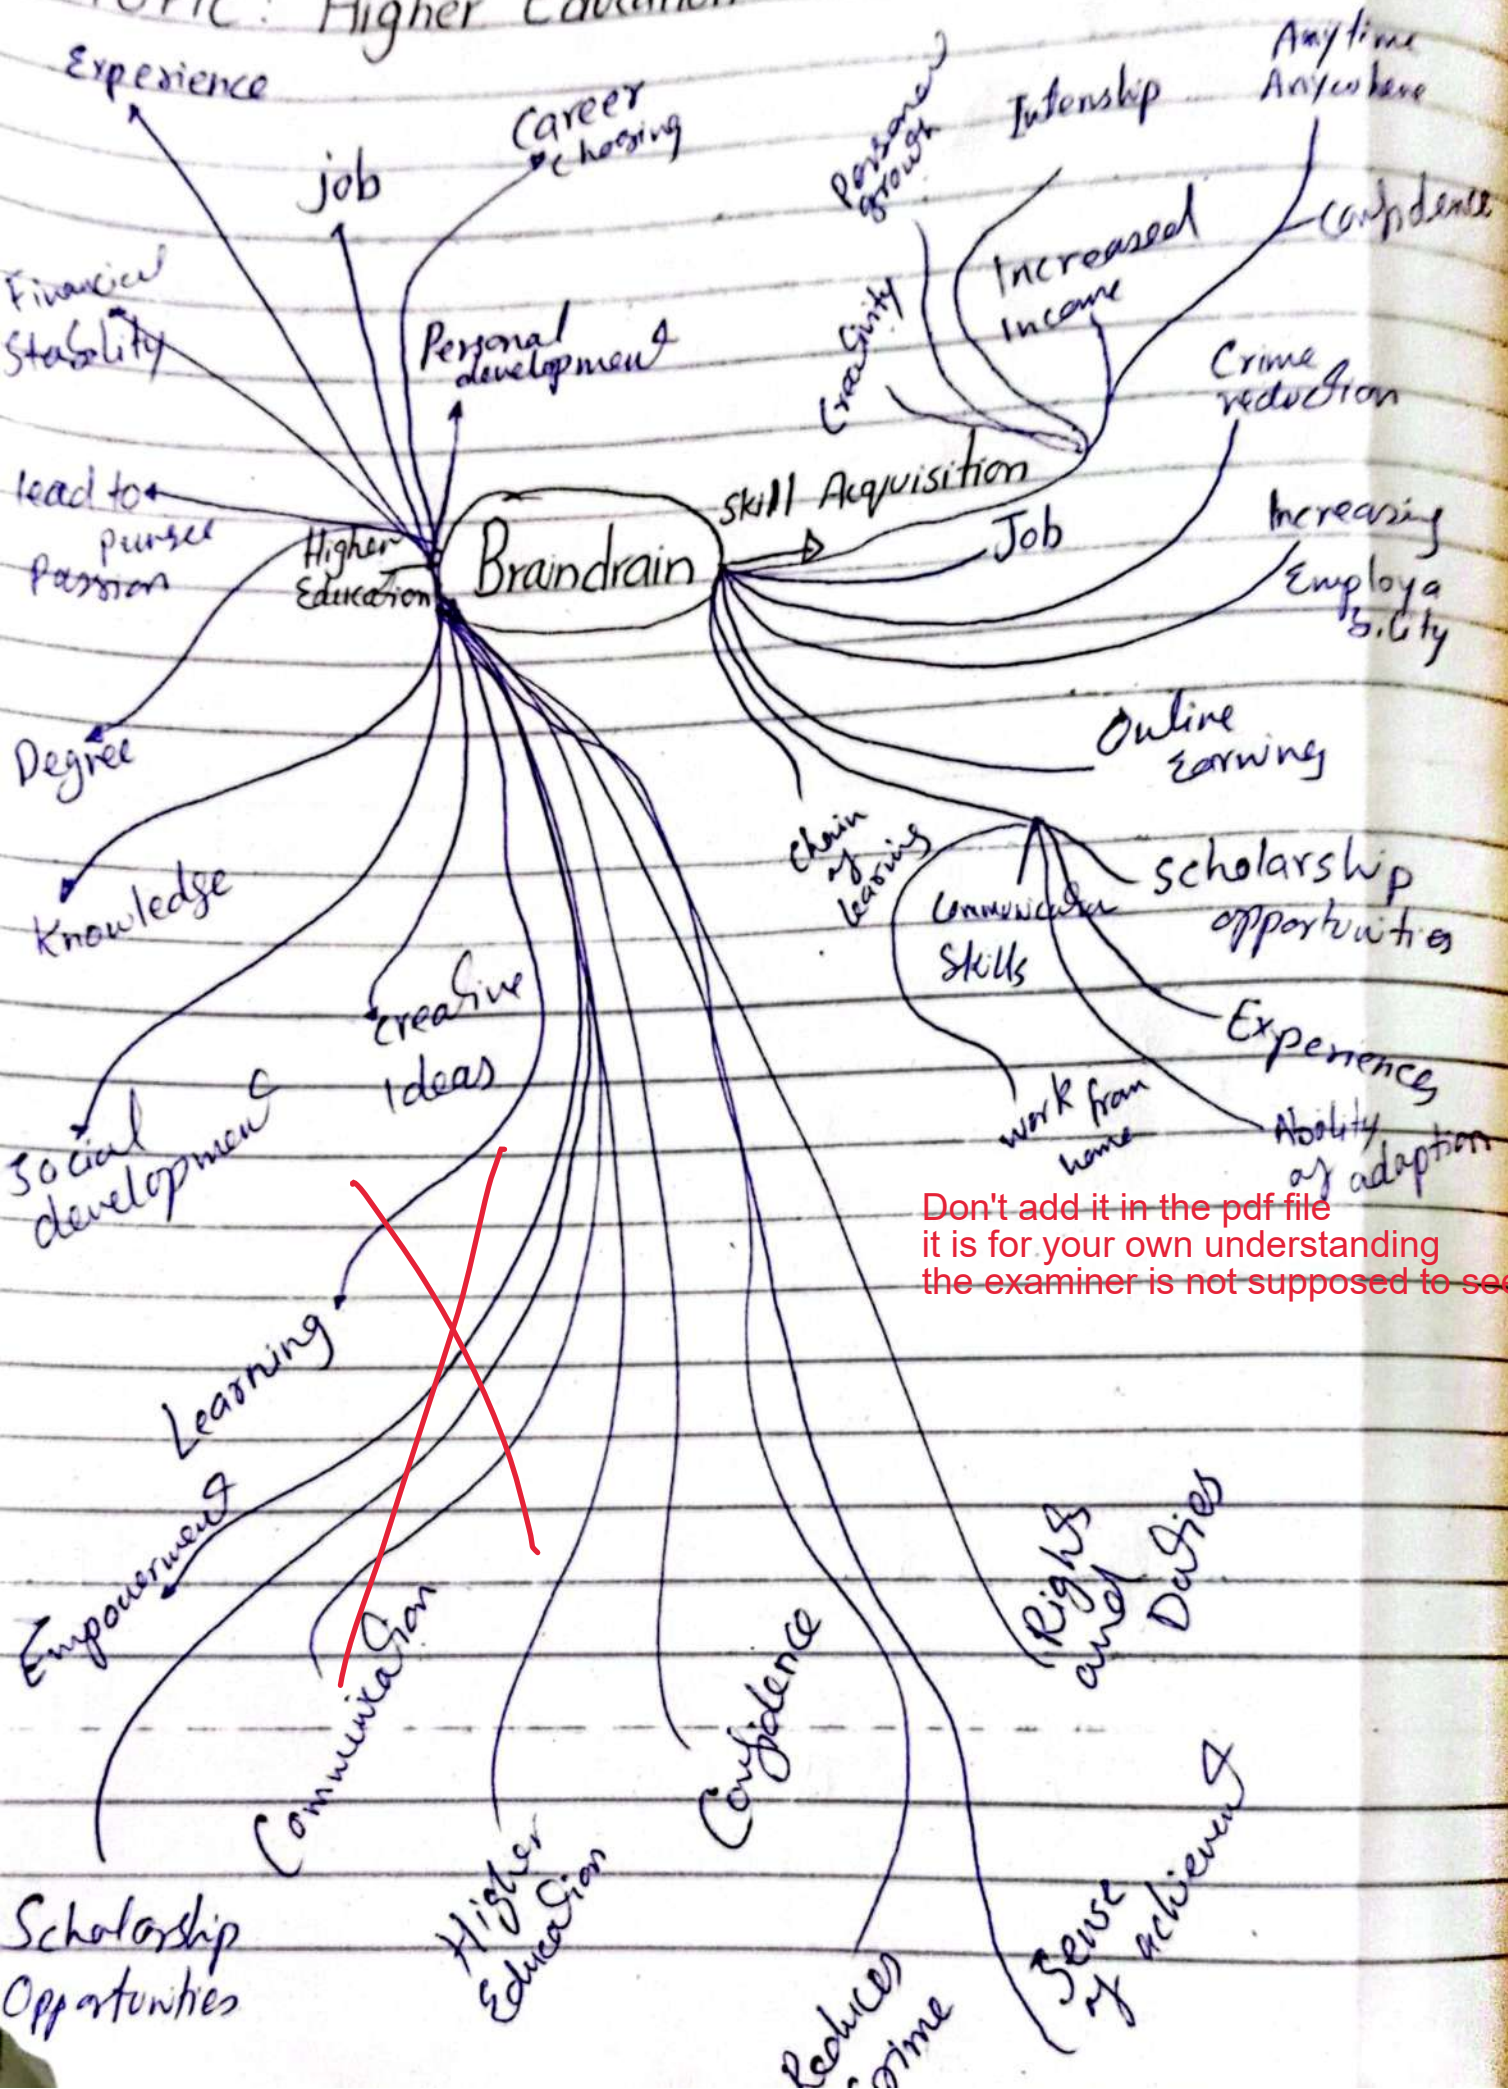

Irrelevant to the scope of the topic

Conclusion

~~Focusing on acquiring skills and ignoring Higher Education is not a great idea. Both have importance but higher education is better as it not only teaches you skill but helps to broaden your way of thinking.~~

This is not a proper structured conclusion

TOPIC: Higher Education versus Skill Acquisition

Don't add it in the pdf file it is for your own understanding the examiner is not supposed to see it.
