

Ephialtes led Persians on a secret path allowing them to surround and defeat Spartans. It is widely considered a tale of betrayal but it is justifiable and does not make him evil. To presume it is, considered men are born soldiers while an imperfect infant to be discarded this way. Leaving aside other professions for them, Ephialtes parents decided to leave Sparta beyond discarding him in his love. He then trained and earned his father's armor.

Arising an opportunity he followed Leonidas on a suicide mission against Persian to get recognition. All he wanted was a noble acceptance among his fellow men. Leonidas has to turn him down because his shield was detrimental to phalanx. But after proving his loyalty and good spear Ephialtes was rejected.

Only then he went to Xerxes and ultimately was offered riches from Persian side. Don't take direct sentences from the passage. It is not the narration do precis. Title should be self-defining and self-explanatory to the passage.

ANSWER # 2

PRECIS:

The tale of Ephialtes is not stained with betrayal as he was never accepted by Spartans at once. He led Persian to a secret path allowing them to surround and defeat Spartans. To presume, it is considered that men are born soldiers. While the imperfect infants be discarded considering their disability to fight. They were not considered other professions for such infants. However, out of love Ephialtes parents decided to leave Sparta and pursue his life. He trained diligently with his father to earn his armor. All he wanted was recognition and an opportunity arised ultimately when he followed Leonidas on a suicide mission of 300 against Persians. Unfortunately for him he was turned down because his shield was detrimental to phalanx protecting soldiers from left in combat. But even after his good spear skills, he was turned down, Only then he went to Xerxes and ultimately was offered riches from Persian side.

Teacher's Signature

I.R PAPER PRODUCTS

Page No.

Ephialtes led Persians on a secret path allowing them to surround and defeat Spartans. It is widely considered a tale of betrayal but it is justifiable and does not make him evil. To presume it is, considered men are born soldiers while an imperf infant to be discarded this way. Leaving aside other professions for them, Ephialtes parents decided to leave Sparta beyond discarding him in his love. He then trained and earned his father's armor.

Arising an opportunity he followed Leonidas on a suicide mission against Persian to get recognition. All he wanted was a noble acceptance among his fellow men. Leonides has to turn him down because his shield was detrimental to phalanx. But after proving his loyalty and good spear Ephialtes was rejected.

Only then he went to Xerxes and offered riches from Persian side but on top of that what he desired was "Uniform" - a symbol of recognition. The tale is out of betrayal because he was not accepted since.

ANSWER # 2 4/20

PRECIS:

The tale of Ephialtes is not stained with betrayal as he was never accepted by Spartans at once. He led Persian to a secret path allowing them to surround and defeat Spartans. To presume, it is considered that men are born to be soldiers. While the imperf infants be discarded considering their disability to fight. They were not considered other professions for such infants. However, out of love Ephialtes parents decided to leave Sparta and pursue his life. He trained diligently with his father to earn his armor. All he wanted only was recognition and an opportunity arised ultimately when he followed Leonidas on a suicide mission of 300 against Persians. Unfortunately for him he was turned down because his shield was detrimental to phalanx protecting soldiers from left in combat. But even after his good spear skills, he was turned down, Only then he went to Xerxes and ultimately was offered riches from Persian

Teacher's Signature _____

I.R PAPER PRODUCTS

Page No.

Please work on Sentence structure and grammar

But on top of that what he wanted was uniforms - a sense of recognition and nobility

TITLE:

Ephialtes: A misunderstood traitor ✓

Ephialtes: A misunderstood tale of betrayal

ANS #3 6/20

Q1 General George S. Patton was considered a controversial military figure for his aggressive and outspoken views. His views were on long term threat to American freedom and democracy. Thus, he considered Soviet as a more threatening force than Nazis.

Q2 According to Alan Axelrod, Patton believed that Soviet was a greater danger to American freedom and democracy than Nazi. At one point concentrating efforts to defeat Soviet's seems risky but could have prevented Cold War. However, it is widely debated that he should march straight to Moscow or stay fighting Nazis. In comprehension answer each question comprehensively Do not be irrelevant in your answer

Please enhance length of each answer

Q3 ~~might simply~~ Patton would have captured Moscow there was a chance of Cold War being prevented. Explain more

Q4 The contrasting sentiments about General George S. Patton all though as: First, he considered United States had defeated a wrong enemy "Nazi". According to him Soviet Union possessed long term threat to American freedom and democracy. In this view he thought that American have to march straight to Moscow. ~~to~~ A hypothetical scenario even predicts that such there would have been no Cold War had United States marched towards Moscow. Though such a pursuit would be highly risky.

In this way some historians criticize S. Patton while others regards him of his far-sightedness unconventional wisdom and boldness.

Q5 The most prominent lesson for the leaders from this text pertains as to be bold and outspoken. They can learn from General S. Patton the lesson of thinking out of the box and see long-term consequences of their pursuits.

ANS # 4 6/10

(i) Akham said he is unavailable.

(ii) My nephew ~~arranged~~ will go ~~party~~ have a party Next Saturday. X

(iii) It has been three weeks since I saw him. ~~last time~~ ✓

(iv) My grandfather ~~harvests~~ grows ✓

(vii) Naslem was served with summons ~~for~~ speeding offence ✓

ANS # 5 (A) 2/5

Bob excitedly burst into the living room, holding a peculiar gadget "Honey! look what I bought! a robot vacuum cleaner!" He exclaimed. His wife, Lisa, eyed it skeptically, "You spent our savings on that?" But "it'll save us time"; Bob argued. As the robot whirred to life, chaos ensued. It zoomed around bumping into walls and furniture sending objects flying. Lisa sighed! "This isn't helping!" Bob, sheepishly admitted. "Maybe I got carried away." They erupted into laughter realizing some messes are best cleaned up the old-fashioned way—with teamwork and a trusty dustbin.

ANS # 5B

2/5

- ii) of ✓
 iii) to ✗ Ti iv) of ✓
 v) to ✗
 vii) to ✓

ANS # 6A

- Q1 (i) Antic : In a point of time You didnot make sentences
 Antique : An old piece of artistic value
 (iv) Momentary : A sudden realization
 Momentous : Continuing presently
 (v) Eminent : - of greater importance
 Imminent : Something bound to happen (often bad)
 (vi) Immigrant : Temporarily leaving birth place
 Emigrant : A permanent migrant
 (vii) Compliment : Saying good of a person
 Complement : Of the thing in addition to

6B

3/5

E Sarah asked John did you thought about which career path you want to pursue after graduation? John exclaimed he was into finance or pursuing technology. Sarah replied both are good options but what makes you interested about finance. John replied I love analyzing data and predicting markets. But on flip side, technology offers ~~endless~~ opportunities for innovation and technology creativity. Sarah explained technology is constantly evolving; "Maybe you should combine interests working in financial technology? That's a fantastic idea, said John. It will ~~He thanked Sarah for the suggestion, and she reminded him to follow his passion.~~ remember to follow your passion advised Sarah.

Teacher's Signature _____

I.R PAPER PRODUCTS

Page No.

ANS #7 4/10

When the Titanic was drowned a renowned millionaire John Jacob Astor was on it. He owned an amount equal to building 30 Titans in his bank account. Though, when life threatening dangers loomed large. He did what was morally upright. He gave his place to two threatened children in his life boat.

The largest departmental store chain owner, Isidor Straus who was on Titanic said: "I will not go into lifeboat before other men."

His wife Ed Straus also refused to sit in lifeboat and gave her space to her servant Ellen Brad. She decided to spend last moments of life with ^{her} husband. These ^{rich} individuals didn't care for their ~~lives~~ and wealth and didn't compromise on moral consciousness. In respect of mortality their choice reflects innate good and human civilization to the best.

Their choice in favor of moral values highlights the dignity of human civilization and human nature.