Introduction:

Distance education has become an important way to provide learning opportunities around the world. In Pakistan, where many students do not have access to schools due to geography, income or other factors, distance education could play a big role in helping more people to get an education. School system in Pakistan has struggled to keep up with the needs of its growing population especially the children of rural areas.

Distance education is changing the trend by reaching students from backward areas but it also has challenges including limited internet, high cost and people doubts.
