

Title: Human cannot live alone

We, humans, need others to survive.

From food to shelter, we need the assistance of others. We have to fulfill the needs of others, in return our needs will be fulfilled. Similarly, to be settled in this world, we need the support of parents, teachers and other fellowmen. In the same way, laws which protect our property and rights are made by others. Even though we need the presence of our friends in the moment of sorrow and joy.
