

Instructions:

- Use Only Black or Blue Color
- Start New Question from the end of Earlier Answer.
- Extra Attempted Questions, Wrong Stapled Paper, Paper without Candidates Details, or any Comment/Objection by Invigilator wouldn't be entertained for checking

↓ Start From Here

Q.2) Precis:

Peace is the only Option worth Trying

The writer advocates peace because of today's warfare where under nuclear influence, the greater nations make others volatile. It is more destructive than the great war as its results would impact everyone, even the one's not born. The cost of it is an impact to limit the usage but it is not the best option to assure peace. Writer thus promotes peace as he has realized it's better than war. Although some told him it is useless until leaders want it too. He wishes to help them while evaluating their own behaviors as it's equally important. He urged every contributing individual to do it and to explore the ways to peacekeeping. Giving up before trying is disastrous. Man made this problem and he can find a way out by trying together.

Estimated word count: 360

Precis count : 120

Q no: 3

Comprehension:

(i) Drought and its consequences:

Drought is another name for the natural calamity which is brought upon the world by nature. It is that period when there is no rainfall for weeks leading to the complete erosion of water, which ultimately results in the natural sources of water ranging from streams, to rivers being all dried up. This makes the access of layman to water near to impossible as the natural reserves go out of access. The aftermath of drought ranges from animals to the crops and resultantly, humans. As the whole food chain is disrupted by animals dying and crops being damaged, ultimately affecting humans.

ii) Does the writer endorse the saying about red sky:

The writer gives a neutral remark by opening the possibility of tell-tale signs being true sometimes. As he says 'It's sometimes right', however he shows

v) How would the moon help in forecasting the weather:

Back in the days of antiquity when speculations played a major role in predicting weather, moon for instance was thought as the controlling body behind weather because of the crescent sickle-shape it was assumed that moon holds a lot of water. And it plays a major role in affecting weather. People used to look at moon to forecast if moon is going to shower rain or not.

Qno 4:

Corrections

- (i) The priest tied the bride and groom in the Holy wedlocks.
- (ii) Allen Turing was a scholar, scientist, and an artist.
- (v) Tim let his son swim with his friends.
- (vi) He has a four year subscription to that magazine.
- (vii) Your heritage is different than my heritage.

Qno 5:

Punctuation

A fly sat on one of the cart's shelf, and said to the mule, "who was pulling it? How slow are you. Mend your pace or I shall use my sting as a goad." The mule was not least disturbed ^{from} behind said, "my master holds the reins and fickle me with his whip, ^{and} I obey. But I don't want any of your impetuance. I know when to double and when not."

B) Preposition:

(i) at

(iv) with

(v) in

(vi) at

(vii) from

Q no 6. Pair of words

(i) I heard a strange creak from the door
The creek flows towards the outskirts of city

(iii) He was in an illicit relationship with his nurse

(v) He taught his daughter to perform well

(vii) There was a room facing the sea side in hotel.

(viii) The ship after the tsunami is all wrecked

B- Dialogues in the form of a paragraph:

Judge inquired Mr. Thompson what if he was seeking wrongful termination. Plaintiff agreed saying that he had been unfairly dismissed. Judge questioned back that if he was let go after eight months. to which he agreed and then judge informed him that employees with less than a year were not eligible for relief unless there was evidence of discrimination or specific rights violation. He said that he felt his rights had been violated. Judge agreed to his stance but refused to do something without those grounds as he could not. Plaintiff reassured that if there was ~~something~~ ^{no} he could do, to which judge nodded and emphasized that his hands were tied by the law. He understood, obliged him and judge had dismissed the case.

Q no-7 Translation

Recently, there was a controversy in a food festival of Lahore, because instead of focusing on books and other academic activities there the stalls of food and other ~~unacademic~~ ^{university} things which were being sold, which overshadowed the real essence of the literary fest. A lot of participants condemned it and felt that the 'Book festival' has mostly been transformed into a food festival, where less care and heed has been paid to the books, literary writers and literary debates. In this festival excessive attention has been given to the food stalls despite of focusing on its evaluation and the book sale. This fuelled a debate that if this festival was ^{really} fulfilling its literary essence or merely prioritizing the profit driven businesses.

Where Dreams Come True