

3-10-24

English Comprehension Test-2

Q: Read the following text carefully and answer the questions below: (20).

Answer 2:

Religious and Sacred view of death:

Religious and sacred view of death is that ^{when} human beings takes death as a stage after which they get reward of their doings. They perceives that death is not more horrible for pious persons but as a punishment for those who ^{committed} doing have done sins and when they believes that it is a step for entry into new world.

Answer 3:

The painful experiences described by the monks in their books are that they have done their self-purification by experiencing extreme physical tortures they inflicted upon themselves with scaring groans also perceives as heart-wrenching.

Answer 4:

The views of Seneca about death are that environment of death ceremony would scared people more than death itself. Mourning clothes of dying person's relatives, weeping, pale face of died person, the terrible shrieks and various other customs are performed and prevailing horrifying impacts on other persons and make death a scary reality for them.

Answer 5.

The facts that make death to appear more horrible than it would be otherwise are that rituals which are performing in grief and mourning ~~around~~ ^{dying} death person. His pale, bloodless face, white or black clothes of his relatives horrifies the death more and also a terrifying fact that applying perfume in mourning house cause attraction of dying soul or ghost makes death more horrible, and painful shrieks add up in this terror of death.

Answer 4.

The difference between human-beings fear of death and children's fear of darkness is that human beings especially adults know that death is reality and everyone have to go in the next world through the stage of death and at this stage they will have to be answerable for their deeds and ^{also} get punishment for their sins while children's fear of darkness is totally because of their own thoughts because their link darkness to the presence of ghosts ^{2 things} which is false perception which take space in their minds.