

The difference is that human's fear of death is enhanced when they hear stories of sufferings<sup>of</sup> dying man while children's fear of darkness is enhanced when they hear stories of ghost and thieves.

Q2

Religious and sacred view of death is that when human believes death is form of punishment for his sins and death means going to another world.

Q3

Monks in their books described that for self purification when one go through physical torture it seems that one is feeling pain of death. This enhances fear of death.

Q4

Seneca is of the view that people frightened more due to circumstances and ceremonies of death than actual death.

Q5

All the facts that make death more
'horrible' <sup>is</sup> ~~are~~ when dying man utters groans, he experiences convulsions and
and his face became lifeless and pale.

His friends started crying, his relatives wear mourning clothes and performs different rituals.