

10 Oct, 2024.

Precis

Since birth humans are dependent on others to fulfill their basic needs of life. Different people work for each other to support their existence.

As kids we need our parents for consolation; teachers to gain knowledge from; books to take a path in our lives and learn new things; with that we need to follow laws made by those passed before us, to be assured that our rights are given to us. We also need peers in our happiness and in sorrow too.

Title

Humans are Born Dependent.