The Essay

Imagine a world, which has never seen any war or fight. Where there would be no world war, no Jewish genocide, no migration of Jews to the Palestinian land, no Jewish settlers, no Zionist atrocities, no Palestinian genocide, no killings in Southern Lebanon, no unrest in Iran, no exchange of fire in the Bab al-Mandeb Strait, no tensions in the Middle East and no compromise on mental health globally, lack of trust in humanity and bloodshed of people. What a beautiful world we would be living in if, there was no war. The idea of the essay title revolve around the fact that the true nations are not the ones, which are trying to maintain their hegemony through arms, fights, bloodshed, terror, genocide and wars but the ones which are peace maker and the shaper of world, master of mind and the moulder of character, maker of environment and destiny, maintenance of good relations, stronger economy and trade, quality health and education facilities, protector of humanity and the environment. The world has seen how nations have taken themselves towards self destruction by getting involved into the wars and proxies. Britishers had to leave their rule in India because of the world war two. Pakistan's involvement in war on terror has made it a permanent victim to the disease of terrorism which is affecting its security and economic progress very badly. However countries like Japan have learned their lesson from war and are focusing on maintaining peace, economic stability and better opportunities for the people in education and health. Countries like Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and United Arab Emirates are racing towards progress by maintaining their focus on the two elements of success which are not the fights and wars but the good relations with other countries, peace, economic stability, trade, infrastructural development and better living conditions of people. Fights and wars are the means of destruction of human lives and are the threat to their existence. Countries which have focused on maintaining good relations with other countries, which have focused on trade, economy, education, health and peace have reached the height of prosperity.

To begin with, it is evident from the world's history that no nation has maintained the soft image or its goods influence by getting involved in wars and fights. The same is the case of Israel atrocities. Israeli occupation of Palestinian land and genocide has made it a very inhumane and barbaric in the world's eyes. Due to its atrocities on innocent Palestinians it has destroyed its image in the world by itself. The global community no longer sees Israel as one worthy of keeping relations. Even countries like Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and United Arab Emirates which had one thought of normalization of relations with Israel are now getting distant from it due to its bad image that it has achieved by committing war crimes on Palestinians, Hezbollah and Yemeni Houthis. It has destroyed its economy by itself. The world is boycotting all the Israeli products. Protests are being held world wide on almost daily basis against Israel. The world doesn't want to make it look like that it is connected to Israel in anyway. South Africa filed a case against Israel that it has committed genocide in Gaza, in the International Court of Justice. Some other countries like Turkey also joined South Africa in this case against Israel and ICJ declared Israel as war criminal. Israel which wanted to maintain its hegemony and good influence in the world by committing war crimes ended of being its image. And this trade relations economy in United in Sept to the the meet in the like is influence up des isolation econom Further involve have cau involved rule East had of being hated by the world destroying its image and declared as war criminal. And this is going to effect Israel's trade relations, diplomatic relations and economy very badly. As it is seen in United Nations General Assembly meeting in September that when Netanyahu came to the rostrum the world leaders left the meeting hall leaving massive empty seats in the hall. Thus it is seen that countries like Israel which try to maintain their influence through wars and fights ends up destroying itself through international isolation and damaging its trade and economy.

Furthermore, countries which get themselves involved in wars and war proxies have caused ~~themselves~~ ^{to be causing} self-destruction by getting involved into wars. The British who get to rule India through the trade of East India Company with almost no war had to give up their rule in India due to world war two. Because, it was not possible for them to fight at two places. Thus the land they had acquired through trade was lost because they got involved into the war. This shows how countries are driven towards self destruction due to wars. Not only Britishers but also Afghans and Pakistanis have destroyed themselves by getting involved in the war on Terror. Eventoday Pakistan is observing its post effects. The threat of terrorism from the Duda band line and Taliban has kept Pakistan awake twenty four by seven. Due to this terrorism, the world is afraid of investing in Pakistan. This is effecting Pakistan's economy very badly. Islamabad has talked to Kabul on this issue but they are not cooperating. They are backing the Taliban and Taliban are not ready to stop the terrorism in Pakistan. Thus the attacks on uniform persons in Peshawar and other areas of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa are happening frequently, thereby increasing the intensity of terror and destroying Pakistan's image in the world. Therefore, countries destroy themselves in this way by getting involved in wars and war proxies. And this is definitely not how the nations win.

Moreover, there are other convincing arguments to back up as some countries have learned post war the actual path of winner. And Japan is one of such examples. Instead of taking her revenge through war. Japan focused on its technology and infrastructural development, education and health, trade and economy, peace and prosperity, good relations and diplomacy. Today a very famous brand of Japan which is "Miniso", has its branches and outlets all around the world from third world countries like

Pakistan to world leading powers like China. This is how Japan has defined ~~it~~ her definition of great nation post war. In 2022, Japan exported a total of 728 billion dollars, making it the number four exporter in the world, according to the OEC website. Japan focused on herself through look inward policy thereby making its trade and economy strong and maintaining peace. Not only this, but, Japan also focused on the health and education of its people. A standard weight is made compulsory to maintain in Japan for good health of people. Education is compulsory at the elementary and lower secondary levels. MEXT reports that 80.6% of 18-year-olds pursue higher education in Japan, with a majority attending universities. Thus Japan has learned post war the true
