

• Q No 7:

Translate the following into English:

Recently, a dispute aroused at a book-fair in Lahore, because many stalls were selling food and other than literary items instead of focussing on literary activities, which resulted the real purpose of fair go in vain. Many participants expressed their disappointment and felt that book fair had become a food festival in which there was but a little room and attention for books, writers and literary dialogues. Because of too much emphasis on food stalls, instead of promoting study and book sale in fair, a debate had started on whether this event was serving its purpose or was just a promotion of business interests.

• Q No-6:

A. Sentences:

vi. Faint

She fainted due to heat stroke

Feint

There is still a feint smell of onion on knife inspite of washing it.

ii. Palate

His child was born with cleft palate.

Pallete

Who had the audacity to break my eyeshadow palette?

-iv- Peel

I don't eat apple without peeling it.

viii- Wreak

Nuclear weapons can wreak havoc in an instant.

v. Taught

Usama taught Arabic at school.

B. Dialogue

Judge asked Mr. Thompson, the plaintiff, if he was seeking compensation for wrongful termination. Plaintiff affirmed to this. Judge further asked him whether he had let go after eight months and when plaintiff accepted this, judge told him that under the law, employees with less than a year were not eligible for relief unless there was evidence of discrimination or a specific right violation. Plaintiff pleaded that his rights were violated. Judge told him that without those grounds he couldn't grant relief. Upon asking when judge told him that he couldn't do anything and his hands were tied by the law, plaintiff acknowledged and case had dismissed.

Q No 5: (A)

A fly sat on one of the shafts of a cart and said to the mule who was pulling it, "How slow you are. Do mend your pace or I shall have to use my sting as a goad." The mule was not in the least disturbed. "Behind me in the cart," said he, "sits my master. He holds the reins and flicks me with his whip and him I obey, but I don't want any of your impertinence. I know when I may dawdle and when I may not."

(B)

- i. We walked along the beach for several hours last night.
- ii. Sam is going to meetings in place of his brother, who has to work.
- iv. John called his brother in hopes of finding somebody to watch his children.
- vi. We were walking through the woods when all of a sudden, we heard a strange sound.
- vii. The course will commence on 1st May, 2025.

Q No 4: Correction:

- ii. Allen Turing was a scholar, a scientist, and was artistic.
- v. Time let his son to swim with his friends.
- i. The priest united the bride and groom together in holy wedlock.
- iv. Being thoroughly dissatisfied with the paintings, it was hidden in the closet.
- vi. He has four years subscription of that magazine.

Q No 3:

Question's answers:

Q i. → Drought is a long period of no rain. Due to absence of rain, streams and rivers become dry and this unavailability of water causes cattle to die out of thirst. Moreover, crops are also ruined due to water scarcity.

Q.ii. → The writer is neither completely agrees nor disagrees. He is saying that sometimes these sayings are right but more often they are wrong. If such saying were always true, there would be no need for weather science. So, he is more titled towards disapproval.

Q iii. → Yes, weather forecasting is a science, as many different things affect the weather and each one has to be carefully studied before making a fairly accurate forecast. Weather science is called 'Meteorology'.

Q. iv. → Weather forecasting is a difficult task because it involves study of different parameters affecting the weather and their careful assessment to conclude accurate results.

Q. v. → In early times, people thought that moon controlled the weather and it held a lot of water. Whenever moon was of a sickle-shape, laying on its back, people expected rain to be on its way.

Q No 2 : Precis :

'Pursuit of Peace'

According to the writer total war makes no sense in an age where nuclear weapons exchange at once place can affect the whole world drastically. Billions of dollars are expended on nuclear weapons to maintain balance of terror. The writer thinks peace as the necessary rational end of rational man. He hopes that leaders of nations adopt an enlightened attitude towards peace and mass weapons of mass destruction. To acquire peace, everyone has to take initiatives by looking inside and examining their attitude towards peace. Too many people think that peace is impossible and war is inevitable but its not. By defining goals more clearly, peace can be acquired.