

Men are not born ^{to} live alone. For the body, soul and spirit one is in continuous need of the assistance of all around him. Everyone has to give in his efforts for each others' livelihoods. As a child man needs his parents to comfort him, to take care of others he can't live ^{alone} all by himself; he requires teachers to educate ~~him~~ ^{him} and teach him. After learning everything, he still needs to laws man by others who died centuries ago, to protect his rights. Friend and companions are needed in every sorrow and joy.

Title: (i) A man needs others for life.
(ii) Life is living with others.