

(Ans 1)

The difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fear of darkness is that children are get feared about listening stories of abstract things. Like ghosts and thieves bring fear on children. However, human beings are get feared because of material things like death of a person in accident and offering funeral prayer of a dead body.

(Ans 2)

Religious and sacred view of death is that, if a human being consider death as a ticket of entry into the world hereafter. Moreover, he consider death as a punishment for his sins. By keep in view the above discussed facts then a human being holds a religious and sacred view of death.

(Ans 3)

Plunks described the painful experiences in their books by focusing on the physical punishments. They further explained the horrors of the world hereafter by focusing on the ~~pen~~ tortures inflicted upon a human being in the hell. These descriptions have produced more pains-

(Ans 4)

Seneca focused ^{more} on the funeral ceremonies than the death itself. That's why his view about the death have caused fear in his man kings. The body posture of a dead body like ~~weep~~ pale and bloodless body cause more fear than the death itself.

(Ans 5)

The body postures of a dying man and the frightening scenes of his friends and relatives weeping on him make the death more horrible. Like the body of a dying man is heard uttering groans because of pain and fear and his pale and bloodless face are such facts which make death appear more horrible.