

The Fate of a nation rests in the hands of Civil Servants.

Brain Storming

- * Significance of bureaucracy for a country.
- * Culture of bureaucracy in Pakistan
- * How the bureaucracy is in depression in Pakistan (Bilal pasha Death case)
- * How bureaucratism influenced Pakistan's growth
- * System of bureaucracy can be lubricate in Pakistan.

"More harm was done in the 20th century by the faceless bureaucrats than tyrant dictators"

The bureaucracy in Pakistan is significant for the growth of Pakistan. It plays an important role in the Economic, political and social welfare.

Yes, It is fact.

Outline:-

- Significance of bureaucracy for a country
- * Culture of a bureaucracy
- * Bureaucracy is in doldrum in Pakistan
- * Influenced Pakistan's growth
- * Competency and capability of decision making in the interest of masses

Influenced in Pakistan growth

- * Colonial mindset
- * Lacking training programmes
- * Shrinkage of metrocracy
- * Surging poverty
- * Building corruption and lawlessness

How the system can be greased in Pak.

- * To insure the absolute role of concerned institution
- * Administration reforms
- * To encourage training programmes
- * To devise the hierarchal check and balance.

Under the circumstances Yes It is The Essay: It is true that fate of nation rests in the hand of bureaucracy. A mature and efficient bureaucratic structure is indispensable for acquiring a well versed governance mechanism a roadmap upon which the socio economic and political survival of the country travel. Pakistan bureaucracy play a vital role in the development of Pakistan but on the other hand those buerocrates violates the law and order. The reason behind this is the colonial mindset, Lacking of training program, shrinking of meritocracy, surging poverty, building of corruption and lawlessness. The illegitimate use of power. All these ^{is} happening because of the poor governance and political instability in Pakistan. To control these situation govt ~~take~~ should take a solid step the first one is to ensure the absolute role of concerned institutions, Administration reforms, encourage training programs. and hierachal checks and balance.

First comes the colonial mindset. The British ruled the sub continent for almost 200 years, all the way from 1757 to 1947 the colonial rule ended in 1947 with the partition of two states.

The dismal mark of a colonial legacy has had a significant influence over the indigenous culture of the sub continent. Looking into the case of Pakistan's beaurat structure which is inherited from the indian civil service of the colonial era. It can be seen how such a flawed flawed bureaucratic structure in undermining the democratic norms in the country. The country's bureaucratic structure is the most pertinent example of colonial legacy Today in almost all the developed countries bureaucrats are highly qualified people who run the government Institution or department instead of managing cities or towns whereas in Pakistan, whereas ~~in~~ Pakistan bureaucracy still act on 19th century system of civil services introduced by English colonial master.

"Power does not corrupt man, fool, however if they got into a position of power corrupt, power is

(George Bernard Shaw) Bureaucratic system of Pakistan has perhaps the most notorious fact about country making it suffer socially
, politically and economically.
Moreover the limited role of the states as an organization and lack of accountability has also affected the country's economic health.

According to the (TI)
Transparency International Report

ee The country stands at 140 out of 180 because of the weak rule of law and state capacity?

Nonetheless bureaucracy is an administrative device that ensure the country procedural correctness irrespective of the circumstances and goals.

It is the engine that regulates the effective working of the state by providing a hierarchical division of labour allocating jobs and resources and promoting the civil deliveries. As Quaid-e-Azam said ee Civil service is the backbone of the state. Govt are formed. Govt are defeated. PM come and go but bureaucracy stay on ee

Conclusion:-

As Discuss above beauracy is the backbone of state so that if beauracy is do their duties in transparent way the state and nation are under the prope ority.

By applying all these solution beauracy of Pakistan become better and political stability, Economically growed, & freedom of speech all are these factors that should happens to become the govt and beauracy good.