

Need of Human Interaction for Survival

Human cannot live alone; to fulfill physical and mental needs one require help for survival. During childhood, there is need of parent for support, teachers to get education and require expert for professional life. In addition, one need laws to protect rights and properties. Moreover, to share sorrow or joyful moment one also need friends for comfort.