

English Comprehension Test-2

Mohin

Batch 367

DATE: ___/___/___

Answers

① The difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fear of darkness is that children fear of darkness is amplified by the stories they hear about ghosts and thieves. While the fear of human being is intensified by stories they hear about agony of dying man.

② The religious and scared view of death is when a human being considered death as a kind of punishment for his sins he has committed. Moreover, if he looks death as a mean of transitioning into another world or after life.

③ The painful experienced described by the Monks in their books is that they undergo painful experiences such as physical tortures upon them and they stated as a form of purification. These description of death suggests that death are indescribably agonizing which in turn heightens people's fear of death.

④ Seneca, the Roman Philosopher is of the views that fear of the surrounding deaths comes more from the circumstances and ceremonies associated with it than death itself.

⑤ Several factors contribute to making death appear more horrible than it might naturally be; like a dying man is heard uttering groans and undergoing convulsions, his face becomes bloodless and pale, the mourning and weeping of his friends and relatives followed by various rituals and ceremonies performed after death.