

Précis:

Needing people for living

Humans cannot live alone. They need people, food, houses and other things for their survival. They maintain their livelihoods by working for others and others working for them. When little, they <sup>need</sup> parents. They also need books, trading, laws and property rights. They desire friends to share moments of life with them.

---

Total words: 52.