

3-Oct-2024

Comprehension:

Answer 1:

The human's fear of death is same as children's fear of darkness. In children the fear of darkness increases when they hear stories about ghosts and thieves while in humans the stories about the painful experiences of a dying man increases the fear of death.

Answer 2:

When humans consider death as a punishment for their sins and if he believes that after death he will enter into another world. This means he is considering death as religious and sacred.

Answer 3:

The written by monks describes all the painful experiences they inflict on themselves during the process of self-purification increases the fear of death in beings.

Answer 4:

A Roman philosopher named Seneca is of the view that conditions and ceremonies of death frighten people more than the death itself would do.

Answer 5:

The facts that make death appear more horrible includes; the groans of a dying man, the pale face of a dead body, the mourning of his friends & relatives and the rituals that are performed to mourn the loss.