

Q.4. Correct any five of the following sentences:

- a) The priest joined the bride and groom together in holy wedlock.
- b) Allen Turing was a scholar, a scientist, and an artist.
- c) Tim let his son to swim with his friends.
- d) He^a has four-years subscriptions to that magazine.
- e) Your heritage is different from mine.

Q.5. Punctuation:

A fly sat on one of the shafts of the cart, and said to the mule who was pulling it, "How slow you are! Do mend your pace, or I shall have to use my sting as a goad." The male was not in the least disturbed. "Behind me in the cart," sits my master", he said. He holds the reins and flicks me with his whip, and him i obey. But i don't want any amy of your impertinrance. I know when i may dawdle and when i may not."

Q5. Part B: Fill in the blanks.

- a) We walked along the beach for several hours last night.
- b) Sam is going to the meeting in place of his brother, who has to work.
- c) The article discusses, for the most part, the possibility of life on other planets.
- d) The course will commence on 1st May, 2028.
- e) Prop this cycle against the wall.

Q6. Part A.

a) Creak: The old wooden door creaked loudly as I opened it.

Creek: The family went for a picnic by the creek, where they enjoyed fishing and swimming.

b) Palate: The chef's delicious dish pleased my palate with its rich flavors.

Palette: The artist mixed colors on her palette to create a vibrant painting.

c) Peal: The bell rang out with a clear, loud peal.

Peel: Can you peel the banana for me?

d) Taut: The sail was taut, catching the wind perfectly.

Taught: I taught mathematics to them.

e) Wreak: The angry protesters' action will wreak havoc on the city's peace.

Reek: The abandoned fridge reeks of spoiled milk.

Q6. Part B.

Judge asked Mr. Thompson if he was seeking compensation for ^{his} wrongful termination. Mr. Thompson agreed, and said he believed that he was unfairly dismissed. The judge asked Thompson, ~~if~~ if he was terminated after eight months. Mr. Thompson nodded, yes your honor. The judge expressed that under the law, relief of employees were not eligible unless there was evidence of rights violation against them. Mr. Thompson asserted that his rights were violated. The judge agreed that he understood but without concrete ground of discrimination.

he can not grant belief. Mr. Thomson disappointedly said if there was something he could do. The judge agreed and said his hands were tied by the law. Mr. Thomson nodded respectfully that he could understand. The judge closed proceedings.

Q 7. Translation.

Recently, a controversy arose at a book fair in Lahore, as instead of focusing on books and literary activities, there were several stalls selling food and non-literary items, which defeated the original purpose of the fair. This put many participants expressed dismay, and felt that "Book fair" had become mostly a food market, with less space and attention given to the books, authors and literary dialogues. The fair overemphasis on food stalls rather than promotion of study and book sales led to a debate whether the event was fulfilling its literary purpose.

Q3. Reading Comprehension.

a) What is drought and what are its consequences?

a) Drought is a long period with little or no rain, which leads to a shortage of water. Some of its consequences are listed below;

a) Water shortage

b) Less food

c) Harm to nature

d) Health problems

e) Higher cost.

b) ^{writes} He does not endorse the popular sayings about the red sky. He, actually opposes the idea that if that was right there would be no need for weather science or meteorology.

~~g) weather science~~

c) Weather forecasting is a science, and it is called as meteorology.

d) Forecasting the weather is not an easy job to do because many different things affect the weather. ~~before~~
All of the factors that affects weather forecast need to be studied before concluding any thing about weather forecaste.

e) People in the past used to believe that the moon held a lot of water, especially when as crescent sickle-shaped moon it lay on its back. Even today, many people believe that the sight of the moon lying on its back means that the rain is on its way.

Q2. Precis.

The speaker advocates for peace over total war, stressing that modern nuclear weapons have made full-scale war irrational and catastrophic. He argues that the sheer destructiveness of nuclear arsenals, which can cause irreversible harm to the environment and future generations, renders the concept of total war irrational.

Although vast amounts of money are spent on nuclear weapons to maintain peace through deterrence, the speaker questions whether accumulating idle stockpiles is the best approach.

He calls peace the "necessary rational end of rational men," highlighting the need for self-reflection at both the individual and national levels.

Doubt around world peace and the belief in war's inevitability can be dangerous. He encourages people to set clear goals.

for peace, making it feel possible and within reach so that everyone can work toward it together.

