

Question no: 01Answer:

There is no difference between human being's fear of death and children's fear of darkness. Both fears increased by the stories they heard about their perspective fear. Like fear of darkness of kids increased by the stories of ghosts and thieves. Similarly, fear of death of human beings increased by the stories of the agony of dying man.

Question no: 02Answer:

If a human being thinks that death is a kind of punishment for his sins he has committed. Furthermore, if he looks upon death as a means of making an entry into another world, he is taking a religious and sacred view of death.

Question no: 03

Answer:

Painful experiences described by the monks in their books are physical tortures. They underwent by inflicting physical tortures upon themselves as a form of self-purification. Such books and thoughts increase a man's fear of death.

Question no: 04

Answer:

Seneca is the Roman philosopher. He thinks that the circumstances and ceremonies of death frighten people more than death itself would do. Those rituals inculcate fear in them.

Question no: 05

Answer:

Uttering groans of a dying man, his body undergoing convulsions, his face appears bloodless and pale. Furthermore, his friends begin to weep at his death and his relatives put on mourning clothes, various rituals are performed. All such facts make death appear more horrible than it would be otherwise.