Question - 7

Recently a discord emerged in a book fair in Lahore because instead of concentrating on books and literary activities, the event was filled with numerous stalls selling food and non-literary items, which overshadowed its true purpose. Many attendees expressed disappointment, feeling that the book fair had transformed into a market place primarily for food, with little space or attention given to books, authors, and literary discussions. Due to overwhelming emphasis on food stalls, rather than promoting sell of books, a debate sparked over whether the event was fulfilling its literary objectives or merely catering to commercial interests.
