

Name: Shehryar Ali

LMR ID: 34197 Batch-055

English Comprehension

Q:1 What is the difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fear of darkness?

The difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fears of darkness is that children are told stories of ghosts and hidden creatures in the dark. As children are sensitive they think darkness is a bad thing. Humans have also witnessed the pain and suffering of a dying man. Humans feel the same fate as such. It creates a sense of fear of death in humans.

Q: 9 What is a religious and sacred view of death?

The religious and sacred view of death is that people are responsible for the good and bad actions they have done in their life. They will enter into another world with a belief that their actions whether good or bad will determine reward and punishment.

Q:-3 What are the painful experiences described by the Monks in their books? The Monks have written painful experiences of death in their ~~text~~ religious scriptures by inflicting pain on the body and exercising extreme activities so that they may attain spirituality. They think they may feel and experience death by doing as such.

Q:- What are the views of Seneca about death?

The Roman philosopher Seneca, was of the view that people mourn and groan over the dead body of a person making death to be feared. His friends and family performing ritual activities further emphasize this fact that death is painful thing.

Q: What are the factors that make death appear more horrible than it would be otherwise?

The fact that the death appears more horrible is the mourning and weeping of people when a person is dead. The practice of engaging in ritual activities like wearing clothes by his family and friends confirm this fact. Death is a reality to be accepted. Instead of feeling frightened.