

PART - II

Q.2

Préci

Title: Peace need not be impracticable, and war need not be inevitable.

Avoid lengthy titles

Peace as a Practical Goal

In nuclear age, war makes no sense. As the whole world will be affected by the deadly poisons of nuclear weapons. Every year billion of dollars are spend on nuclear weapons for the purpose of balance of power to ensure peace.

In such a case, when nuclear weapons would not be used, because if it is used, it will destroy the world, their creation is much less efficient means of assuring peace. Some are of the view that world peace or world law or world disarmament is practically impossible and it is useless to speak about world peace ^{until} ~~where~~ the leaders adopt a more enlightened attitude towards the progression of peace.

But we must ~~change~~ our attitude too, every individual who ^{Too lengthy} wishes to bring peace, should begin by changing ^{It should be 1/3rd} his own attitude towards upbringing of peace. Despite of the thinking about the impracticability of world peace, an individual can still shift his attitude towards the possibility of peace.

Don't use "I, we, our, us"
