Q2 Taiwan is a potential conflict between China and USA. Critically evaluate the reasons and why and how the two countries must avoid the conflict.

① Introduction:

The Taiwan issue represents one of the most significant geopolitical flashpoints in modern international relations, with potential consequences for global stability. The United States views Taiwan as a crucial democratic ally and strategic partner in the Indo-Pacific, while China claims Taiwan as part of its territory, seeing reunification as a matter of national sovereignty and regional security. As both countries increase their military presence and political rhetoric, it is crucial to understand the reasons for this potential conflict and explore strategies for conflict avoidance.

② Reasons For Potential Conflict.

① Strategic Significance of Taiwan:

Taiwan's location in the East China Sea makes it a strategic buffer zone for China and critical link for US interests in the Indo-Pacific. Control over Taiwan could enhance China's influence in the region, while its independence aligns with US goals of maintaining a balance of power in Asia.

② Ideological Differences Between the two:

The US sees Taiwan as a model of democracy and a symbol of resistance against authoritarianism, aligning with American values. China, on the other hand, prioritizes national sovereignty and territorial integrity, viewing Taiwan's independence as a threat to its unity. For example, in 2022, US leaders supported Taiwan's participation in international organizations like the WHO, sparking protests from Beijing.

③ US Military And Diplomatic Support:

The U.S has increased arms sales to Taiwan under Taiwan Relations Act, with the recent deals worth billions including advanced F-16 jets and missile defense systems. This has raised Chinese concerns about U.S interference in its sovereign matters, intensifying regional tensions.

④ China's National Identity And Sovereignty:

Taiwan is deeply tied to Chinese national identity and president Xi Jinping has emphasised reunification as a core goal. For example, in 2019 he stated that "reunification must be achieved" to complete China's national rejuvenation, highlighting its importance for China's domestic narrative.

⑤ Economic And Trade Factors:

Taiwan's semiconductor industry is vital to global technology production, supplying over 60%.

Date: _____

of the world's semiconductors. The U.S. fears that Chinese control over Taiwan could disrupt the global technology supply chain, impacting industries from automotive to consumer electronics.

⑥ Military Escalation And Arms Race:

Both countries have increased their military presence around Taiwan, with China recently conducting military exercises -simulating a blockade around the Island. Similarly the U.S. conducted joint military drills with Japan and other allies, signaling support for Taiwan's defense.

② Why And How the U.S. China Must Avoid Conflict:

① Risk of Regional Destabilization

A conflict over Taiwan could destabilize the Indo Pacific pulling in countries like Japan, South Korea, and Australia.

For instance, Japan has expressed concern over Taiwan's security, stating that its defense is linked to Japan's, highlighting the potential for wider involvement.

② Economic Interdependence

The U.S and China are the world's two longest economies with bilateral trade reaching over $700 billion in 2021. An open conflict would disrupt this trade affecting industries globally and risking a global economic downturn, similar to the supply chain disruptions seen during the COVID-19 pandemic.

③ Global Supply chain.

Taiwan's semiconductor production is crucial for global industries. The 2021 chip shortage due to the pandemic demonstrated the vulnerability of this supply chain. A conflict would worsen this situation, impacting companies like Apple, which relies on Taiwanese semiconductors for its products.

④ Nuclear And Conventional Warfare Risks:

Both the US and China possess significant nuclear arsenals. Any miscalculation could lead to the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis, where U.S.-Soviet tensions over Cuba brought the world close to nuclear conflict.

⑤ Humanitarian Concerns.

The section has two parts

Conflict over Taiwan could lead to severe humanitarian issues, with potential displacement and casualties. For example, the Russia-Ukraine conflict in 2022 resulted in millions of refugees, which could be mirrored in Taiwan should tensions escalate.

Recommended Strategies for Conflict Avoidance.

① Establish Direct Communication Channels

They should establish direct communication channels like an emergency "hotline" to manage incidents and prevent misunderstandings around Taiwan.

② Reaffirm US one-china Policy.

They should reassure china while supporting Taiwan's autonomy.

③ Engage Multilateral Platforms:

They should also involve ASEAN, Quad etc. to mediate and maintain balance.

④ Promote Economic Cooperation.

They should also create joint initiatives (e.g. on tech or green energy) to foster mutual benefits.

⑤ Develop Military Conduct Agreements

Set rule to prevent accidental encounters in the Taiwan Strait

⑥ Public Rhetoric De-escalation:

Manage national sentiment and avoid inflammatory statements.

a- Content 60% References 15% Subject specific language 15% Graphs and charts 10%

Add 12-13 headings in each question the questions carry 3_4 parts... each part has equal weightage so discuss all equally

Give examples from present events to justify answers

Give attractive introduction and Conclusion as well always give headings from the question statement... take words from the statement link each of the argument to the asked part in the question... if you fail to do so, no matter how accurate content is, if your heading is not align with what is asked in the question, it won't be accurate
