INTRODUCTION PARAGRAPH

If being overpopulation^{ed} was a sport, Pakistan and India would have tied for the gold medal in Paris Olympics 2024, with the population rising, in countries like these, faster than their blood pressures during rush hours, can we please take a group ~~break~~ breath and hit pause? The world has progressed so far till the age of fifth generation computers, and in third world countries like Pakistan, families are still planned like a soccer team. This menace has its own ~~own~~ history, with lack of education, gender inequalities, early marriages, family traditions, rapid urbanization, weak government policies and unstructured society leading to an alarming situation of environment degradation, resource depletion, infrastructure damages, burden on social services, housing shortage, inadequate healthcare and education, poverty, unemployment and food scarcity. If not addressed properly, the very same reasons might become a force of a failed society as a whole.
