

Areej Farooq
Batch-53

LMS ID- 33581
Comprehension Test 2

Read the following text carefully and answers the following questions below:

Questions.

Q1: What is the difference between human beings' fears of death and children's fears of darkness?

A: The difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fear of darkness is that human beings were told about the agony of dying person. This makes them afraid of death. On the other hand, children's fear of darkness is due to stories told to them related to thieves and ghosts. Therefore, the difference between human beings' fears is due to the agony of dying person and children's fear is due to stories of ghost and thieves that were told to them.

Q2: What is religious and sacred view of death?

A: The religious and sacred view of death is that when human beings consider/believe death as a kind of punishment of their sins. On the other hand, when human beings consider death as means of making an entry into another world. Then these are the sacred and religious views of death.

15

Q3: What are the painful experiences described by the Monks in their books?

A: The painful experiences described by the Monks in their books is that dying person suffer/go through severe pain and physical torture. It is considered as an act of self-purification. The dying person bears agonizing pain of death. When finger hurts, its pain is unbearable and the pain of death is more agonizing than this. Therefore, Monks described the painful experiences of death in their books.

Q4: What are the views of Seneca about death?

A: The views of Seneca about death is that circumstances and ceremonies of death makes people more frighten than death itself. People used to wear mourning clothes and cry over the dead and persons. Different rituals and customs makes death more horrible than it is. Dying man heard uttering groans, his body seems bloodless and pale, his friends and family begin to weep. Therefore, Seneca's views about death is ceremonies makes death more horrible and frightened.

Q5: What are the facts that make death appears more horrible than it would be otherwise,

At The facts that make death appear more horrible than it would be otherwise that the body of a dying person started shivering and his body become bloodless and pale. Furthermore, when his friend heard about his death they started crying and his blood relations started mourning and perform various rituals/customs. All these facts make death appear more horrible than it would be otherwise.

Use your own words