The speaker discusses the irrationality of full scale war in this nuclear age. Peace is the only solution to it.

War makes no sense because a single nuclear war can cause global devastations. In fact, it will not only cause global devastation, but will affect the future generations too. He argues that today a large amount is spent on making nuclear weapons to assure peace, which is totally unacceptable. As the creation of such weapons will only cause destruction. So, it is needed to make such state leaders understand the importance of disarmament and world peace. Peace is the primary goal that requires a shift in attitudes at both individual as well as national levels. Moreover, it is detrimental to perceive this goal as something impossible to be achieved. Therefore, by adopting a hopeful outlook and setting attainable peace goals, nations can move away from the inevitability of war.

Translation:

Recently, a controversy arose at a book fair in Lahore, as instead of focusing on books and literary activities, there were numerous stalls selling food and non-literary items, overshadowing the fair's original purpose. Many attendees expressed disappointment, feeling that the "book-fair" had turned more into a food market, with little space and attention given to books, authors, and literary discussions. Due to the overwhelming emphasis on food stalls, rather than promoting reading and book sales, a debate started over whether the event was fulfilling its literary purpose or merely prioritizing commercial interests.
