Q2:

PrecisePeaceful World Is Never Impossible ✓

Peace as a Practical Goal

7/20

Significance of peace is acknowledged in the nuclear age where great nuclear forces refrain from surrendering.

The nuclear deterrence is achieved by spending billions of dollars and <sup>total</sup> war across the world is of no benefit.

Nowadays, nuclear armaments have power of great destruction, <sup>more destructive than ever</sup> ten times higher as compared to those used in <sup>don't mention</sup> second world war, not only regionally but its effects can spread through wind, water and soil to those who are yet unborn. These nukes can only destroy and never create. The idea of world peace, lawfulness and disarmament considered as impossible, is only human-made and peace has never been impossible. For the sake of peaceful world, leaders of
