

9

Translation

If world's allurements don't attract you, if fear of God brings tears to your eyes, if thoughts of hell frighten you, if you pray sincerely, if goodness draws you in, if your feet stop towards path of evil then indeed, you are a righteous man. Some people are actually righteous and some strive to be. It is fortunate to be a pious one which requires consistent efforts, time and resilience from pain.