

Translation:

If the world does not attract you, if your eyes fill with tears from the fear of God, if the thought of Hell makes you scared, if you pray to God in a right manner, if virtue attracts you towards itself and you do not commit any vice, you are virtuous. Some people are virtuous already, while others become with time. To be virtuous is considered good luck. However, to become virtuous requires constant purification and struggle. It takes time and requires hardships to be endured.
