Title: Mission of life is to win battles.

It is physically impossible for a brave man to make money for his dinner.

But, dinner is not the main object of their lives.

So, all healthy people enjoy the sensation of winning. It is something better than money. A good soldier, his main mission is to win battle. The clergyman's object is essentially to preach. But, not to be paid preaching. A good doctor will patient for fees. They desire to cure the sick.

So, trained the brave man that their work is first and fee is second.
