

Translation

If you are not inclined towards worldly affairs, your eyes get filled with Allah's fear, the hellfire makes you afraid, you perform the obligated worships in a best possible way, you enjoin the right and forbid wrong, then you are on a righteous path. Few people are pious while others pretend to be. The righteous people are the lucky ones. Piety needs continuous introspection and strive. One needs to take time and face hardships to become a pious person.
