

Translation Paragraph

History has filled with such successful people who initiated their life journey in extremely dire situations. But later on, they were enlisted in the world successful ^{and} famous personalities. Success, respect and fame are never achieved by one without struggle. One can only get money without effort. Where as there must be condition that ones ancestors should have property, then one will ^{inherit} get money. Money can buy you worldly luxuries but can't buy you happiness. Sometimes, decades pass for a man to earn respect while a moment is enough to earn disgrace or to be controversial.