

Precis

title: The Noble Priority of Work Before Wealth

A well-read and brave person gives first priority to his work and keeps the much desired money in the second place. Just the way all healthy people like dinners, but do not make them sole objective of life. People from different walks of life be them doctors, clergyman, soldiers and all the healthy minded people like to earn money, but never make it primary goal of their life.

Word count = 72 words