~~Money can be ser-~~

History is full of such people who started their lives from scratch with severe difficulties but ^{later} they turned out to be reputable and famous in the world.

Money can be served in a plate only if you have generational wealth, but respect and success is earned and can't be served in a plate. Money can't buy happiness, it can only be a means for worldly materials. At times, it takes decades to earn but it ^{only} takes a moment to be disreputable.
