Translation:

History is filled with such successful people who began their lives at rock bottom but, later, they were counted in successful and eminent personalities. Success, respect and fame don't come on a silver plate - only if your ancestors have wealth, you can ~~be~~ ^{have} ~~weat~~ have wealth in the plate. Wealth can buy you worldly comforts and luxuries, but it can't buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes a ~~man~~ ^{man} centuries for a man to get respect; it just takes a split second to fall from grace into the depths of shame.
