

Serving People: The Purpose of life

All wise people do not consider making money as their main goal. No doubt, money gives a sense of satisfaction when it comes while pursuing the main objective of the life. A brave soldier cares about fighting well instead of receiving his pay. Similarly, a clergyman is more concerned about preaching. In case of doctors, a good doctor will prioritize his patient's well being. Although money is important, but it can not be the primary goal of a brave and well-educated man.
